Susan McCollough Art workshop July 24-25 at Gulf Coast Art Alliance

International artist, Susan N. McCollough, will be teaching a two day workshop, Abstract Art: An Instructional Workshop, July 24-25 at the Gulf Coast Arts Alliance Gallery in Gulf Shores. Classes will be from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. each day. Those participating can paint in oil or acrylic. A list of supplies will be available at the GCAA Gallery. Spaces for this class will be limited. For more information, or to sign up, call 251-948-2627 or email gulfcoastartsalliance@gmail.com. The Gulf Coast Arts Alliance is located at 225 East 24th Avenue in Gulf Shores. Visit gulfcoastartsalliance.com for more GCAA info.

McCollough was named "Artist of the Year" 2017 by Art Tour International Magazine, Florence, Italy. Her art has gained international attention with exhibits in Italy, France, Germany, Austria and South Korea. Her most recent exhibitions have been at the "Art Expo" in New York and the "Water for Life International Art Exhibition" in Ontario, Canada.

"I paint from the excitement of the blank canvas, with freedom of inner feelings, movement, lighting, connection of space, combination of colors and playing with negative space until it all speaks to me," McCollough said. Her inspiration comes from looking at things that are realistic in nature and changing them into abstract images.

For examples of her work, visit her studio, the Susan N. McCollough Gallery at 350 Cypress Bend Blvd., Gulf Shores, or visit online at susanmccolloughart.media.

Back to School Sales Tax Holiday weekend July 20-22

Beginning at 12:01 a.m. (CST) on Friday, July 20, and ending at twelve midnight on Sunday, July 22, Alabama will hold its twelfth annual sales tax holiday giving shoppers the opportunity to purchase certain school supplies, computers, and clothing free of state sales or use tax. Local sales and use tax may apply. Retailers are required to participate and may not charge tax on items that are legally tax-exempt during the Sales Tax Holiday. This is the second year the tax holiday will occur in July, and Baldwin County and South Baldwin cities, are also participating.

Items included in the tax-free weekend include the following: clothing articles less than $100, such as Belts, Boots, Caps, Coats, Diapers, Dresses, Gloves, Gym Suits, Hats, Hosiery, Jackets, Jeans, Neckties, Pajamas, Pants, Raincoats, Robes, Sandals, Scarves, School Uniforms, Shirts, Shoes, Shorts, Socks, Sneakers, and Underwear.

For purposes of the exemption, a computer may include a laptop, desktop, or tower computer system, which consists of a central processing unit (CPU), and devices such as a display monitor, keyboard, mouse, and speakers sold as a computer package. Computer parts and devices not sold as part of a package with the CPU, will not qualify for the exemption.

Items commonly used by a student in a course of study in which a computer is used are also included.

School supplies with a sales price of $50 or less are also included, as is written material commonly used by a student in a course of study as a reference and to learn the subject being taught).

For more information, visit revenue.alabama.gov/salestax or call 334-242-1490 or 866-576-6531 weekdays from 9 a.m. 'til 5 p.m.

Ft. Morgan evening tours every Tuesday through July

Historians and Fort Morgan Historic Site staff dressed in period uniform will provide historical insights on various periods of Fort Morgan's History every Tuesday evening through July from 6-7 p.m. at the Ft. Morgan Historic Site, located at the west end of Ft. Morgan Rd. (Hwy. 180), 23 miles west of Hwy. 59 in Gulf Shores. Cost is $10 per person. Historical Interpreters portray soldiers that occupied this fort from various periods and tell about the lives of the soldiers during the Fort's most active years. Demonstrations of small arms drills will occur throughout the evening as well as the firing of one of the fort's artillery pieces at the conclusion of the tour.

St. Peter's in Bon Secour monthly fish-fry is Aug. 2

St. Peter's Episcopal Church will host old fashioned fish-frys on the first Thursday of every month at its beautiful campus in Bon Secour from 5-7 p.m. The next feast is August 2, and fish-frys are also scheduled on Sept. 6 and Oct. 4. Fried fish plates include sides of hushpuppies, baked beans, coleslaw, potato salad and dessert - all for $10. Eat in or take out. St. Peter's is located on the corner of County roads 10 and 49 at 6270 County Road 10 in Bon Secour. # Gulf Shores seeks grants for $46.1 million in road projects

Improvements could include roundabouts at west end of Canal Rd.

By John Mullen

Gulf Shores announced plans to seek a new grant for road improvements north of the Intracoastal Waterway, work on Canal Road and more streetscape improvements in the Waterway Village district.

And, while it's a new grant, the city is dusting off some old ideas in past applications for Transportation Investment Generating Economic Recovery, or TIGER grants. The new program is called Better

Utilizing Investments to Leverage Development, or BUILD.

"This is not something that just suddenly appeared. It's something we've been working on for a long time and it's built around our Vision 2025 plan and how we can make our city better."

"We just went to Washington a few weeks ago and met with the federal department of transportation to talk about this new BUILD grant," Mayor Robert Craft said. "They are familiar with us for three years of being in the TIGER grant process and being evaluated to the top levels of the TIGER grant application for a very similar project. It's not like they don't know who we are and what we are doing."

The project would cost a total of $46.1 million with $25.1 million coming from BUILD funds, $21.6 million from RESTORE Act funds and the city will kick in $3.4 million to pay for the design costs of the projects.

"That would give us a lot more control over the design process with all these really complicated questions we need to consider and get community input on," Grant Coordinator Dan Bond told the council. "It will also allow us to control the schedule and make sure we're getting the documents done on time so we can get this thing completed by 2025."

Past federal grant programs wouldn't allow local governments to use other federal grants or funds toward matching or for the same projects. That rule was waived for RESTORE Act funds and projects.

"The RESTORE Act can be used to offset and as a leverage like a match," Craft said. "The BUILD grant has no grant requirement. You don't have to put any money in the game to be eligible. But in the decision of who gets awarded, that plays a lot on how much you have put in the game and how much further it can make the federal money go."

Perhaps the most ambitious part of the project involves a walkway attached to the east side of the Intracoastal Waterway bridge. This would allow the southbound shoulder lane to be used for traffic and have three lanes of traffic flow on both sides of the bridge. This part of the project would cost $7 million.

Another part of the project includes improving roads in the Business and Aviation Park including connecting to the new spur road and bridge the state is working to build east of the airport. Those improvements would cost $3.4 million.

Improvements along Waterway Boulevard East south of the airport would cost the most at $12.9 million. This project would also connect to the new planned state road and also make improvements to East Second Street up to its intersection with Alabama 59.

In the same area, $2.8 million will be spent to allow better access to the planned medical building the city recently bought from Sacred Heart. It will include a new access to the building from County Road 4 to the north.

The roadway at 36th Avenue West will be improved and connected to a new road south that will connect with Waterway Boulevard West at a cost of $6 million. Plans are to eventually extend it north as well to County Road 6 to provide another alternative to Alabama 59.

On Canal Road east, improvements are planned from where the new state bridge is planned to East Second Street and could include some roundabouts to try and ease traffic flow around the 90-degree turn at Frith's Bait Shop.

"We will be using existing right of ways, traffic circles to try basically spread some of that traffic flow out so it doesn't get concentrated at that curve and the stop signs," Bond said.

Streetscape improvements on both sides of the Intracoastal Waterway Bridge in Waterway Village will cost about $1.8 million. The deadline for applying is July 18.

"We've got it structured in a way, and I think positioned in a way, that we've got a good chance and it's certainly worth trying," Craft said. "This is not something that just suddenly appeared. It's something we've been working on for a long time and it's built around our Vision 2025 plan and how we can make our city better."

In other action during the work session the council:

- Heard a recommendation from City Planner Andy Bauer to rename County Road 8 to Coastal Gateway Boulevard. Several properties along the road have been annexed into the city and last year the city took over maintenance of the road.
- Discussed a new ordinance to regulate the use of drones in the city limits.
- Discussed authorizing the police department to pursue funding from Homeland Security to pay for barriers, fences and jersey walls for special operations or events, to separate pedestrians and vehicular traffic. There is $1.8 million in grant money available and applications can be made for $10,000 to $50,000.
- Discussed a $73,000 contract with Volkert Associates to provide engineering and studies for a roadway through a 40-acre property recently donated to the city near the Trailside Subdivision on County Road 8. Additionally, the contract will cover a traffic impact study and warrant analysis requested by the County Commission as part of their approval process for the City's proposed traffic signal at County Road 8 East and the Foley Beach Express.
- Considered a request from the Alabama Independent School Association to host its track and field state championships in 2019 and 2020. The city hosted the event the past two years.

Gulf Shores Legion hosts July 21 Patriots Cornhole Tourney

The Patriots' Corn Hole Tournament will be held on Saturday, July 21 at American Legion Post 44 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Post 44 is located at 6781 Hwy. 59 in Gulf Shores. More info: (251) 948-6119. Early registration is $20 per pair. Proceeds go to Alabama's Annual Veterans Retreat assisting those suffering from PTSD.

Mystical Order of Mirams announce Nov. 30 as date for Taste

The Mystical Order of Mirams have announced that the 12th Annual Taste of the Islands will be held on Friday, November 30 at 6:30 p.m. at The Orange Beach Event Center at the Wharf. This year our culinary extravaganza will host over 30 restaurants from Gulf Shores, Orange Beach and surrounding areas. The all-inclusive holiday gala will consist of food samplings, cocktails, musical entertainment and a silent auction. Watch for more information coming soon.

Womenless Beauty Pageant Aug. 8 at Flora-Bama Men invited to show feminine side at Relay For Life fundraiser

Baldwin County men will have an opportunity to get in touch with their feminine side for a good cause during the WomanLess Beauty Pageant at the Flora-Bama Lounge on August 8 from 6-9 p.m.

The event is a fundraiser for Relay For Life of Coastal South Baldwin and is being coordinated by Theresa Enfinger of the Columbia Southern and Amy Hicks of the Flora-Bama on behalf of their company Relay For Life teams.

Contestants will compete in swim suit, evening wear and talent competitions, and audience members will vote for the winners by purchasing tickets for $1 each (25 for $20). Big Earl (Jack Robertson) will be the master of ceremonies. Contest participants can enter for $20 at 2018womenlesspageant.eventbrite.com.

The Relay For Life of Coastal South Baldwin will be held on Saturday, Sept. 29 from 2-10 p.m. at Heritage Park in Foley and include food trucks, live music, speakers, lots of children's activities, luminaries and a survivor's walk.

"We usually do this at the Relay For Life event, but we decided to change it up a little bit and get more people involved," Enfinger said. "This is going to be really fun." Pictured: Competitor at a past Relay For Life Womanless Beauty Pageant.

Next O.B. Relay for Life Full Moon Paddle is July 29

The City of Orange Beach - Relay for Life Team is gearing up for their 4th summer of fun on the water with the popular Full Moon Paddles. The paddles have become the number one fund raising effort for the Orange Beach Team. The events are held at the Wind & Water Learning Center, located at 26267 Canal Road, behind the Orange Beach Public Library. Prior to participants leaving to experience the night time paddle, area restaurants cater the dinner on the grounds for everyone to enjoy and area musicians donate their time to entertain.

After enjoying the food, entertainment and meeting new friends everyone heads out onto the water in kayaks, canoes and sometimes a paddle board or two. Headlights and PFD's are required and participants provide their own kayaks or canoes.

Dates and sponsoring restaurants: Sunday, July 29 (Cobalt Restaurant), Sunday, August 26 (Luna's).

Registration is $20 per person and everyone must be pre-registered. Online registration will be available at ventbrite.com. Printed registration forms will be available at orangebeachal.gov and at all recreation facilities in Orange Beach. All monies raised benefit the American Cancer Society - Relay for Life effort. For more information on how you can be a part contact Relay Team Captain Jeanne Fitzgibbons at 251-981-1524 or jfitz@orangebeachal.gov.

Little Pink Houses, Toys for Tots Miram krewe's annual charities

The Mystical Order of Mirams executive board have chosen their annual charities to be Little Pink Houses of Hope and Toys for Tots.

Each year the Mystical Order of Mirams network with area restaurants, and grocery stores, to provide a nice luncheon for the families and staff of Little Pink Houses of Hope. This organization provides a FREE week-long vacation in Orange Beach for breast cancer patients and their families. Every retreat is designed to help families relax, reconnect and rejuvenate during their cancer journey. For more information on Little Pink Houses of Hope visit www.littlepink.org.

Toys for Tots is another annual charity event organized by the Mystical Order of Mirams. Toys are collected at the door by the U.S. Marines at the annual Mirams' Taste of the Islands fundraiser event. Toys, bikes, and games collected are distributed to local boys and girls at Christmas. For more information on Toys for Tots visit toysfortots.org

This year's Taste of the Islands will be held the evening of Friday, November 30 at 6:30 p.m. at The Wharf Conference Center, Orange Beach, Alabama.

In addition to these charities, the Mirams enjoy helping individuals within our community throughout the year. Community recipients are often not publicized out of respect to those individuals' privacy.

For more information on the Mystical Order of Mirams, and ticket information on this year's Taste of the Islands, visit mirams.info or find us on Facebook!

Danny Grady playing afternoons at Fraternal Order of Eagles

The Fraternal Order of Eagles #4549, Gulf Shores, is pleased to announce we are having live music by Danny Grady on Thursday and Sunday afternoons from 2:30 P.M. to 5:30 P.M. Stop by and give a listen. Also, on Saturday afternoons, we have free "snacks" such as chili; cheese, meat and cracker trays; nachos; hot dogs, and chili dogs; and sometimes cocktail wieners and meatballs in Don's special sauce! The address is 3859 Gulf Shores Parkway unit 6 on the North end!

The Eagles in Alabama this last year raised over $189,000.00 for various charities throughout the state and our own local club gave out over $1000.00 to local charities. Right now we are in a drive of collecting non-perishable foods and toiletries to help out those in need. Come on out with your donation and see what we are! The public is welcome. The hours are 7 days a week, noon to 6 P.M.

Annual Bat Blitz a celebration for biologists and enthusiasts

By David Rainer

AL Dept. of Conservation and Natural Resources

Despite the stigma caused by countless Dracula movies, a dedicated group of naturalists continues to demonstrate its love for the animal with a face only a mother could love. Those enthusiasts express their devotion to the bat, nature's only flying mammal, all the way down to the bat jewelry.

Bat lovers met recently at Lakepoint State Park near Eufaula for the annual Bat Blitz, a celebration of the small animal that can sometimes be spotted zooming around street lights at dusk, dining on a smorgasbord of insects.

"In the south part of the state, we have a lot of bats, but they don't congregate as much in caves. They're referred to as forest bats. They roost in trees. They're actually all around us, but we're kind of oblivious to them."

Nick Sharp of the Alabama Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries (WFF) Division said this year's Blitz was a joint exercise for bat biologists and enthusiasts from Alabama and Georgia. The Blitz is a collaborative effort of all the Alabama Bat Working Group (ABWG) members. Jeff Baker from Alabama Power and Shannon Holbrook from U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service served as co-chairs of the Bat Blitz committee.

Alabama State Lands Division's Jo Lewis said the recent gathering was the 17th annual meeting of the ABWG, an informal affiliation of bat biologists and enthusiasts from many state, federal and private agencies across the state. The group holds the Bat Blitz in different areas of the state each year to sample the bat populations in those areas with mist nets deployed at night.

"We're looking for distribution information about what bats are in what areas of the state," Lewis said. "We have 15 species of bats that are native to Alabama. Some only occur in the more southern portions of the state, and others only occur in the more northern portions of the state because of the different habitats in Alabama and our complex ecosystems."

"In the north part of the state, bats appear to be more numerous because of the karst geology with all the caves. In the south part of the state, we have a lot of bats, but they don't congregate as much in caves. They're referred to as forest bats. They roost in trees. They're actually all around us, but we're kind of oblivious to them. A little bat hanging in a tree snuggled up against a nook or branch, you're never going to notice."

The southeastern myotis is one bat species found in the south part of the state but not as often in the north. The Bat Blitz researchers found 16 southeastern myotis bats in a culvert on the first night of the event.

Another bat more common in the southern part of the state is the Mexican freetail. Sharp said the fast-flying bat is now most often found in attics because most of the large, hollow trees it historically used have been cut down.

A bat that is found in the northern part of the state but not the southern part is the northern longear, a protected species. Gray bats, also protected, are found in north Alabama. The most common species throughout the state is the big brown bat.

Currently, the biggest concern for the bat enthusiasts is the condition known as white nose syndrome, a fungal infection that has killed more than six million bats in North America.

"Nobody knows right now how white nose syndrome affects the tree bats," Lewis said. "We're hoping it doesn't affect them because they don't roost together as much and are less likely to spread the infection."

"We do have confirmed cases of white nose in most of the northern counties, as far south as Bibb County near Birmingham."

Lewis said it is very difficult to determine how much the syndrome has affected the populations in north Alabama because of the labor-extensive requirements to do those studies.

"From personal observation in a cave that I've been monitoring for the past 10 years, it followed the classic series of events associated with the disease, and it truly decimated the population," she said. "A tenth of the number of bats that used to be there are there now. I used to count hundreds of tri-colored bats in there. Now, we're counting 30. It has definitely affected that bat population."

Sharp said data from nine caves in north Alabama monitored from 2010 to 2017 indicate a reduction of tri-colored bats by 70 to 95 percent. He said counts at two Indiana bat hibernacula over that time period are down 95 percent.

Bats are predators and eat huge numbers of insects, which can be disease vectors. They eat mosquitoes, which can carry several diseases, including Zika. Some of the insects the bats are eating are pest species that damage crops in the state.

"Their simple presence can deter pest species from infesting crops," Lewis said. "If you have bats working a field, you're less likely to have insects that are going to eat the corn."

Sharp said bats provide at least $3.7 billion in pest control service to agriculture annually in the U.S., according to a 2011 scientific study.

Lewis said human-bat interaction most often occurs at dusk and dawn, especially around street lights, but bats are active all night.

"Bats will sometimes take a nap in the middle of the night," she said. "But they're not roosting. They're just getting a little rest before they go back out and eat more insects. The street lights attract insects, so it's kind of like McDonald's for the bats."

Another area of concern for bat researchers and the public in general is the fact that bats can be rabies vectors. Lewis said this adds to the stigma of bats but that rabies does not appear to occur at a higher rate in bats compared to other wildlife. Sharp said rabies studies in bats showed infection rates of less than one percent in wild animals.

"But there's an extremely important distinction," she said. "When humans encounter a bat, they are not interacting with the regular population of bats. They are interacting with a bat that is acting extremely abnormally because bats avoid us."

Sharp said rabies can be transmitted by a bite from an infected animal or by bat saliva entering an open wound. Sharp and Lewis said to seek immediate medical advice if you suspect contact with a bat resulted in either of those situations. If the bat is incapacitated or captured, take the animal to have it tested for rabies.

"If you've had contact with a bat, it's highly advisable to have that bat tested because rabies is 100-percent fatal if symptoms appear," she said. "It's just not worth the risk. Anybody who works with bats at the Blitz has pre-exposure vaccinations. Anybody who hasn't had vaccinations cannot touch a bat. We're having fun, but we have real rules that we will not bend."

One of the presenters at the Bat Blitz was Vicky Smith of A-to-Z animals in Auburn. Smith, who has taught thousands of school kids about bats and their role in our ecosystems, dispelled several myths associated with bats.

"One is 'blind as a bat,'" Smith said. "Bats are not blind. Bats have tiny eyes, but we've actually discovered something about their echolocation, the way they use sound waves to locate the insects. What we found was that once they get close, they zoom in with their eyes on the insect. When they scoop it to their mouth with a wing or their tail membrane, they use their eyes for up-close work. Another myth about their eyes is that light hurts their eyes. That's not true."

Another myth is that bats will get tangled in your hair, especially folks with long hair.

"Bats will come close to you," she said. "You are not a food source, but you have attracted their food source by breathing out carbon dioxide, which attracts mosquitoes and other bugs. If the bat echolocates and sees a buffet flying around your head, he's going to fly to that buffet. They will fly quite close to you in the dark, and that can be quite scary. We believe that's how that myth got started."

A misconception is that a bat, which belongs to the order Chiroptera (winged mammal), is just a mouse with wings.

"Bats are not rodents," Smith said. "They are about the same size, but a bat typically gives birth to one pup per year. A little mouse about the same size can give birth to about 144 babies per year. Another difference is tooth structure. The teeth in a bat are more like dogs' and cats' with large canines to crunch the exoskeletons of the insects."

Although outreach and education are important, Lewis said the main goal of the Blitz is to catch as many bats as possible to assess the population in that area.

For Lewis, catching bats during the Bat Blitz is just a continuation of her infatuation with the species.

"I've been doing this for 20-something years," Lewis said, "and I still love it."

Country Music Hall of Famer Don Schlitz at 'Bama Aug. 1

Resume includes 24 No. 1 songs, 2 grammys, 50 hits, Broadway musical

Country Music Hall of Fame Songwriter Don Schlitz will be at the Flora-Bama for a one-of-a-kind performance on Wednesday, August 1 at 7 p.m. in the Main Room. Tickets can be purchased in advance for $20 on florabama.com/concerts or at the door subject to availability.

Schlitz has an amazing 24 number one songs, two Grammys, and three CMA Songs of the Year and more than 50 hits during his amazing career.

He was inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame in New York in 2012 with Bob Segar, Gordon Lightfoot, Jim Steinman, Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, and last year played during the Frank Brown International Songwriters Festival just days after being inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame with Alan Jackson and Jerry Reed.

His hit songs include "The Gambler," "On the Other Hand," "One Promise Too Late," "40 Hour Week," "Houston Solution," "I Feel Lucky," "When You Say Nothing at All," "Forever and Ever, Amen," and "He Thinks He'll Keep Her."

The Frank Brown International Songwriters Festival Foundation for Music is the concert co-sponsor. In it's 34th year, the festival is the oldest of its kind in the United States and has consistently been named a "Top 20 Event" by the Southeast Tourism Society. The mission of the foundation is to bring the authors of original music out of the shadows and into the spotlight; to reach into schools to enrich lives and encourage creativity through music; and to support businesses by increasing tourism in the Gulf Coast region.

Partnering with Flora-Bama on this exciting evening to showcase legendary Don Schlitz will be a magical memory that will continue the mission of the foundation and festival.

Born Donald Alan Schlitz, Jr. on Aug. 29, 1952, and raised in Durham, N.C., Schlitz briefly attended Duke University before coming to Nashville at the age of twenty.

His talent was recognized and fostered early on by greats including Bob McDill and Bobby Bare, and he emerged as an empathetic and intelligent chronicler of the human spirit.

When Rogers recorded "The Gambler," (Don's first recorded song!) Schlitz's ascent was assured, and the success of that enduring story-song allowed him the ways and means to spend a lifetime writing words and music that articulated the extraordinary emotions inherent in common experience.

Schlitz and his co-writers penned "Rockin' with the Rhythm of the Rain," "Forty Hour Week (for a Livin')," "Houston Solution," "Deeper Than the Holler," "One Promise Too Late," "I Feel Lucky," "Old School," "Give Me Wings," "Strong Enough To Bend," and scores of other songs that underscore the depth and breadth of modern-era country music.

One of the first performers at Amy Kurland's iconic songwriter club, The Bluebird Café, Schlitz and friends Thom Schuyler, J. Fred Knobloch, and Paul Overstreet, originated the now-ubiquitous songwriter "in the round" format in 1985. He continues to regularly perform his hits and new material at The Bluebird, interspersed with his wry wit and unique comic timing.

The Don Schlitz songbook even includes the 2001 Broadway musical, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer". Though he could have hung up his ambitions and his songwriting pen after having written "The Gambler," Schlitz lives in enduring commonality with Tom Sawyer's creator, Mark Twain, who once wrote, "I am hard at work... merely for the love of it."

And perhaps Kenny Rogers, when inducting Don into the Songwriters Hall of Fame, said it best: "Don doesn't just write songs, he writes careers."

Shark Fishing night on GSP Pier popular with regulars

By David Rainer

Al. Dept. of Conser. & Nat. Resources
Anglers at Gulf State Park Pier

who expressed frustration after reeling in pieces of desired fish species that had been attacked by sharks have gained some relief. The Alabama State Parks System managers instituted a pilot program to allow a limited number of anglers to fish for sharks on the octagon end of the pier on consecutive Tuesday nights recently.

The first night was relatively slow as several sharks were hooked but only one undersized (minimum of 54 inches fork length) fish was landed. The shark was released back into the water.

The action on the second Tuesday night and the overwhelming interest of anglers and spectators prompted Parks officials to expand the shark-fishing opportunities in July. Numerous sharks were hooked last Tuesday, and a 130-pound spinner shark was hauled onto the 1,540-foot pier.

The next chances to fish for sharks on the pier will take place on the south end from 7 p.m. until 7 a.m. the following morning on Sunday and Tuesday nights on July 22, 24, 29 and 31. The previous shark-fishing times had been 8 p.m. to midnight. Parks officials realized anglers had a great deal of success just as the sun was setting and decided to start the fishing an hour earlier. Anglers said the sharks were causing problems at daybreak as well.

To accommodate the shark anglers, the octagon will close to routine use 30 minutes prior to these events and reopen to routine use 30 minutes following. During the events, the octagon area of the pier will be reserved for the exclusive use of participating anglers and their designated assistants. Other anglers and pier guests can use the remainder of the pier as usual.

The husband-wife duo of Melvin and Kayci Dixon of Gulf Shores teamed up to hook and fight the only shark landed during the second Tuesday. Kayci, who is six months pregnant, had a live blue-fish for bait when she hooked the fish. She soon handed the rod and reel to her husband. Melvin fought it until other anglers and assistants were able to get snatch hooks into the shark to laboriously lift the fish over the railing and onto the pier deck.

"She fought it about five minutes and then handed the rod to me," Melvin said. "When she first hooked up, I didn't think he was that big. When he was way out there I didn't think it was much and we were going to have to break him off. But when he got within 100 yards of the pier, it changed. It ended up being 70½ inches long."

"Luckily, there were some great guys out here who jumped in to get the fish over the rail. Everybody worked well together to get it. It was great team spirit."

When the shark comes over the rail is when those on the octagon must be most careful, as Lamar Pendergrass, State Parks Regional Manager, told the anglers before the start of the event.

"Our biggest concern is safety once a shark is brought up on the pier," Pendergrass said. "Everybody needs to stay clear of the shark until it is identified and dispatched if it is a legal shark."

Also on that second Tuesday, Stephanie Langston of Foley, a regular at the pier along with her husband, hooked but lost a shark that went under the pier, cutting the line on the sharp barnacles. And the brother-sister team of Grayson and Greta Graves both had sharks on during the night but, like Langston's, both fish escaped when the fishing line snapped at the pier.

Pendergrass and other Parks officials said it is too early to tell how the pilot program will affect the sharks' impact on pier anglers.

Several sharks that make the northern Gulf of Mexico home are protected, and the Alabama Marine Resources Division had several officers on hand to help identify the species. When the Dixons' shark was hauled onto the deck, it was thought to be a black-tipped shark. Marine Resources officials used a shark identification chart to identify it as a spinner shark because, paradoxically, the spinner shark's anal fin has a black tip, while the black tip has a white anal fin.

Alabama State Parks Director Greg Lein said he's not really surprised by the interest in shark fishing, which had previously been prohibited on the pier.

"We've been hearing for a while that people wanted the opportunity to catch sharks out here," Lein said. "What has surprised me is the diversity of interest. There are some people who want to catch sharks to eat them. There are some people who just want to hook one for the sport of having a shark on the line. Others want to catch sharks to remove them because they think there are too many sharks around the pier."

Conservation Commissioner Chris Blankenship added, "The number of spectators crowding the pier to watch these events has been interesting. On both nights we had hundreds of people who came out to the pier to see what would be caught. At one point on Fox 10 Facebook Live there were over 880 people watching the first night. Sharks are fascinating creatures, as evidenced by the participation and the crowds. That is why the Discovery Channel has a whole week of programming dedicated to sharks every July."

This year, Gulf State Park Naturalist Kelly Reetz is partnering with the Alabama Marine Resources Division and state universities to provide hands-on educational information and activities during Shark Week July 22-27. More information can be found at <http://alapark.com/gulf-state-park-shark-week-0>.

Lein said after monitoring the shark-fishing events in July, the State Parks staff will evaluate the program and determine whether to extend the fishing for upcoming months.

Registration for the shark-fishing events continues. Anglers are selected in the order in which applications are received. To register for the special events, visit alapark.com/shark-fishing. Applicants are required to provide contact information for notification of selection.

Those chosen will be notified a week or more in advance of their designated fishing date.

Visit alapark.com for the latest information on shark-fishing and other pier events.

Gulf State Park Pier Shark Week July 23-27

Family friendly activities ranging from hands-on educational seminars to children's arts & crafts are scheduled during the July 23-27 Gulf State Park Shark Week from 10 a.m. 'til 3 p.m. each day at the Gulf State Park Fishing and Education Pier. Entrance is $3 per person for all ages and includes sightseeing on the Pier and all shark week activities.

Daily activities include 3D Shark Movie, educational displays and activities all about shark's anatomy, senses, fins and a Sharks of the Gulf scavenger hunt on the pier. Each correct answer will get a shark tooth or small trinket to add to Shark Week visor craft. The GSP staff will also have a monitor set up to see what our new under water remote vehicle sees under the pier, and each day will also have a guest educator.

- Monday- Ocean Camp
- Tuesday- Auburn University Natural History Museum will be showing how to use a dichotomous key to identify sharks
- Wednesday- Marine Resources will have touch tanks
- Thursday- Marine Fisheries Lab with Mississippi State University at the Coastal Research and Extension Center will be doing dissections at 10:30am and 1pm
- Friday- USM's Center for Fisheries Research and Development will have tagging info, preserved specimens and microscopes with blood slides

Sirens of Sea Tailgating Drawdown Sept. 21 at O.B. Event Center

Sirens of the Sea, a local women's Mardi Gras Krewe, is in full swing this summer working on their upcoming Annual Fall Fundraiser, The 2nd Annual Football Tailgating Drawdown. Last year's theme was so well received that they are bringing it back. It is going to be held at the Orange Beach Event Center at The Wharf on September 21 starting at 6 p.m. The event promises to be a fun filled night. The Grand Prize is a hefty $5000.

Raffle items this year, soon to be announced, will appeal to a wide audience. Raffle tickets are only $2. The Silent Auction will have a wide array of valuable items to bid on. The band STORMY from Louisiana will light up the night with horns, keyboard and vocals. Food will be catered by Down South BBQ.

Everyone is invited to come out and join the tailgate party, wear their favorite NCAA College or NFL Pro Football team fanfare. Sirens of the Sea support our local communities throughout the year. A portion of the proceeds support several selected local charities, previously including Baldwin County Child Advocacy Center (CARE HOUSE). Their Annual Sirens Scholarship Fund is awarded to a local high school senior for college tuition. Tickets are $50 and will be on sale soon. For more information or tickets contact Linda Pacatte at 251-402-2218 or Judy Hamby 270-887-9691 or any Siren member.

G.S. Fire & Rescue will man grills for Oct. 1 family BBQ to kick off Gulf Shores Goes Pink

It was determined that "all systems are go" for a Pink October following a Gulf Shores Goes Pink planning meeting with the sponsoring GFWC South Baldwin Woman's Club and the Guardians of the Ribbon Pink Heals of Lower Alabama.

"We want to encourage all businesses and homes to go pink with lights for the month (October)," said club president Marsha Andrews.

"This will show our support for our families, friends, and caregivers as a community," she added. "Our hope is to bring the community together in support of the Pink Heals and what they do for us."

Gulf Shores Goes Pink kicks off with a community BBQ from 5-7 p.m. at the Gulf Shores Fire Station at 1921 West First St.

Gulf Shores Fire & Rescue will man the grills and donations to the Pink Heals Lower Alabama chapter will be accepted. For more info, call 251-597-2120 or 985-290-1111.

The Pink Heals started in 2007 to help people battling cancer with a focus on women and what they mean to us in our daily lives. Since that time the program has evolved to be the driving force of change in the way this country is raising funds by taking the theme of Pink Fire Trucks and Pink Police Cars to serve the community by putting people first instead of causes.

Pink Heals funds raised in our communities, counties and states remains there, giving organizers the option to either put it towards research or deliver one hundred percent of the money generated by fundraisers to the people that need it the most.

Everyone is and can be involved. This is also about bringing a community together to show love and hope for the women, their caregivers, and their families.

The Lower Alabama Chapter makes surprise visits when requested by a family. The local fire department will put on the pink fire fighting gear and with flashing lights visit the home of the patient.

While there, they will present something money cannot buy, a Pinky the Bear in pink fire fighter gear. Pinky is for the honored cancer patient or the caregiver as a symbol of strength and hope. It is something to "hold on to" in tough times.

TREASURES YARD SALE:

The Treasures of the Isle Mardi Gras Krewe will host a huge treasure hunt and yard sale June 29-30 from 9 a.m. 'til 4 p.m. at the Orange Beach Community Center on Canal Rd. The local funsters also sold baked goods. Celia Ray and Jan Mowry organized the fundraiser for the krewe.

Gulf Shores will receive $4.5 million in incentives from Embassy Suites developers

By John Mullen

The City of Gulf Shores will receive about $4.5 million in incentives from D.D. Partners which is taking over a beach road city-owned parcel to build an Embassy Suites hotel with an upscale restaurant. The mayor, city council and city staff discussed the agreement during Monday's work session.

In return, the city will give the company a 42 percent rebate on taxes generated for three years and a rebate of 35 percent each year thereafter until the total reaches $6.5 million. It is estimated the company would reach that threshold after eight years in operation. The rebate will not include taxes that support education, transportation or beach renourishment in the city.

City officials project new tax revenues of more than $11.2 million even by giving the rebates to the company. Additionally, the city expects to see $1.8 million in tax revenue generated during construction and $22.6 million during the first 10 years of operations.

An economic study by Dr. Keivan Deravi, Dean of the College of Public Policy and Justice at Auburn University at Montgomery, indicates the project will have a communitywide economic impact of $65 million.

DD Partners will give the city $1.2 million in cash to build 150 new parking spaces in the Gulf Beach District. Additionally, the company will give Gulf Shores a $3.3 million letter of credit as security for the property. The agreement also says the company will secure enough financing to finish the project.

The total cost of the mixed-use project will cost about $85 million and include 229 hotel rooms, the restaurant, street-front retail, 11,800 square feet of conference space including a 7,800-square-foot ballroom, full-service spa, indoor pool and fitness center.

Topping the entire project will be a 23,000-square-foot outdoor rooftop with a pool, bar, lounge and event terrace overlooking Gulf Place.

"The ability for this project to significantly enhance the amount of conference and meeting space within the city in order to bolster shoulder season business opportunities for all local businesses was a critical factor in the selection process," according to a city report. "The development team and Project Selection Committee worked diligently with executives from Hilton and Gulf Shores and Orange Beach Tourism to ensure the conference center was designed to complement the meeting space at The Lodge at Gulf State Park and right-sized to fill a critical void in our market."

The city began seeking investors for public-private partnership in 2015 to develop the 1.93-acre parcel on West Beach Boulevard behind Alvin's Island and across the street from De Soto's Seafood Kitchen.

It is part of the city's effort to develop the Gulf Beach District into a walkable area to reach out to tourists and be a catalyst for more development in the area. The project also fits in with the goals of the city's Small Town, Big Beach Vision 2025 plan.

Also during the work session the council:

- Awarding a franchise to The Dumpster Guy for collection and disposal of construction and demolition debris. City staff recommended a 28-month contract and said the company gave the city good service in the past.

- Reappointing to members to the Airport Board and to the Gulf Shores and Orange Beach Tourism Board. Councilman Joe Garriss and Craig Olmstead were recommended to serve another six-year term each on the Airport Board and Mac McAleer was recommended for another four-year term on the tourism board.

Alabama red snapper season will close July 22

By John Mullen

Originally scheduled to be open every weekend through Labor Day, the closure of Alabama state waters to the harvest of red snapper by private anglers and state-licensed commercial party boats will now close at 11:59 p.m. on Sunday, July 22.

The quota of 984,291 pounds issued under NOAA Fisheries' Alabama Recreational Red Snapper Exempted Fishing Permit (EFP) is expected to be met by the closure date, according to a report from the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources.

"Alabama anglers fished extremely hard on the good weather days during the season," said Marine Resources Director Scott Bannon. "That level of effort, coupled with larger average-sized fish harvested this year as compared to last year, resulted in a daily harvest rate two times higher than 2017, which prompted an earlier than anticipated closure."

"The purpose of the EFP was to demonstrate Alabama's ability to establish a season and monitor landings within a fixed quota and I think we have shown we can do that," said Bannon.

Anglers are reminded of the following:

- Possession of red snapper in Alabama waters while state waters are closed is prohibited regardless of where the fish were harvested.

- Alabama anglers may fish in federal waters off the coast of Alabama (outside of 9 nm) and land in a state that is open to the landing of red snapper, but they must adhere to the open state's rules and not transit in Alabama state waters with red snapper on board.

- The season for federally-permitted charter for-hire vessels will close at 12:01 a.m. July 22.

In-season landings estimates were calculated through the use of Snapper Check, the program established in 2014 to collect mandatory trip reports from anglers, and this monitoring tool was a key component of the EFP.

MRD staff will review the complete 2018 season effort and landings data to develop a plan for the 2019 season. Summary data from the season and information about the EFP can be found at www.outdooralabama.com/saltwater-fishing/exempted-fishing-permit.

The Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources promotes wise stewardship, management and enjoyment of Alabama's natural resources.

King to present report on South Baldwin's earliest residents July 19 Public invited to LLPS meeting at Gulf Shores Activity Center

Little Lagoon Preservation Society (LLPS) members and the public are invited to hear (pictured) Harry King review the preliminary results of his work on characterizing 2,000-year-old native Indian residents in South Baldwin County during the LLPS quarterly meeting on Thursday, July 19 at 5:30 p.m. at the Gulf Shores Activity Center. The first half hour of the meeting provides an opportunity to meet, mingle and enjoy refreshments. The program begins at 6 p.m. and will include a question-and-answer period.

King, also a LLPS Board member and Water Quality volunteer, has confirmed the existence of an Indian made canal connecting Little Lagoon to Oyster Bay and several mounds in the Lagoon north shore area.

Geo Probe data from the bottom of the canal is expected to establish when the canal was dug, how long it was used and when it was last navigated. Dr. Greg Waselkov (Archaeologist, USA) and Dr. Howard Cyr (Geo Archaeologist, Univ. of Tennessee) are currently analyzing soil strata from the canal and mounds to unlock more secrets of this local ancient civilization. King will have artifacts on display at the meeting.

The Gulf Shores Activity Center is located at 260 Clubhouse Drive.

Perdido Optimist Bicentennial Series continues Aug. 3

Story of Fort Mims topic of meeting at Lillian Community Club

By Sally McKinney

Jackie Lane, PhD, President of the Friends of Perdido Bay, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Optimist Club of Perdido Bay. A marine biologist, Lane (pictured) and others have been working for more than 30 years to try to clean up Perdido Bay.

International Paper in Cantonment has been a major polluter of the bay, discharging 2,600 tons of pulp a day, containing a variety of toxic effluent including chlorine, dioxin, and heavy metals.

This is just one of the interesting programs the Optimist Club provides at their weekly meetings at 8 a.m. every Saturday in the Lillian Community Club.

On Aug. 3 the Bicentennial Series continues with the story of Fort Mims. A large force of Creek warriors attacked and captured the fort in 1813, killing hundreds of men, women and children. Mike Bunn, Director of Historic Blakely State Park and member of the Baldwin County Historical Development Board will provide the details about one of the most historical events in Alabama history.

Former Elberta Mayor Marvin Williams is a local storyteller. The original owner of Roadkill Café, he will speak at the Aug. 11 meeting. Pharmacist Stacy Davis, owner of Lillian Pharmacy will address the club on Aug. 17. She will discuss drug abuse issues, drug safety and disposal. Lillian resident Bob Pocreva has a variety of interests. On Aug. 25 he will speak about Alabama geology, addressing the Huntsville to Mobile geologic time periods.

All are welcome to attend to hear interesting programs and to find out how the Optimist Club of Perdido Bay works to "Bring Out the Best in Kids."

The team at Fisher's is excited to launch it's labor of love.
 Unwind over tropical drinks, guacamole, grilled oysters, handmade tacos, gulf fish, and sizzling steaks.
 Over looking beautiful Sportsman Marina.
 You're going to love our newest waterfront hideaway.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

COOKIN' WITH CAROLYN

By CAROLYN GODFREY

Picnic Fried Chicken

1 broiler/fryer chicken (3 lbs.), cut up
3/4 to 1 cup buttermilk

COATING:

1-1/2 to 2 cups flour
1-1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. garlic powder
1/2 tsp. onion powder
1 Tbsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. ground sage
1/4 tsp. ground thyme
1/8 tsp. baking powder
Oil for frying

Pat chicken pieces with paper towels; place in large flat dish. Pour buttermilk over chicken; cover, and allow to soak at least 1 hour or overnight in refrigerator. Combine coating ingredients in large resealable plastic bag. Add chicken pieces, one at a time, and shake to coat well. Lay coated pieces on waxed paper for 15 min. to allow coating to dry (will cling better in frying). In a Dutch oven or other deep skillet, heat 1/2 in oil over medium heat to 350 degrees. Fry chicken, uncovered, 7-8 min per side or until coating is dark golden brown and meat is no longer pink, turning occasionally. Drain on paper towels.

Serves 6.

Enjoy!

Jamie Bergeron back at The Hangout July 20-21

Jamie Bergeron (pictured) & the Kickin' Cajuns will be back at The Hangout July 20-21 for multiple sets on the courtyard stage at the restaurant located at Gulf Shores Public Beach. A veteran EMT and paramedic, Jamie Bergeron is a life-saver, singer-songwriter, accordion player and just a real charming guy. The band has four CDs in their catalog and are appearing all across the country. Discovery Channel has featured their music on the popular Great Biker Build Off 2 series. Experience the band live for yourself to understand what everybody's talking about down in South Louisiana.

The Lion King Jr opens Aug. 3 at SBCT

Tickets are on sale now for the South Baldwin Community Theatre's six run production of Disney's The Lion King Jr. Shows are scheduled August 3, 4, 10 & 11 @ 7:30 p.m. and August 5 & 12 (Sunday) @ 2 p.m. To purchase online, go to sbct.biz.

An SBCT Young Artist production, the play has captivated the imagination of audiences around the world as a one-of-a-kind musical of the African savannah. See Simba, Rafiki and an unforgettable cast of characters come to life on stage, as they journey from Pride Rock to the jungle . . . and back again, in this inspiring, coming-of-age tale. Presented through special arrangement with Music Theatre International, the play is directed by Jan Hinnen. Tickets are $15 for adults and $9.95 for children. Tickets are also available at the theatre box office (2022 W. 2nd St. in Gulf Shores the week of the show and at the door. Call 251-968-6721 for more info.

FAIRHOPE DOCKS MARINA READY TO FUEL: Fairhope Docks Marina is now selling both gas and diesel and has pump out services at its new fuel dock. Slip holders have access to bathrooms, showers, and laundry facilities. The City includes trash pick-up and recycling on site. Fairhope Docks Marina is located at the foot of Sea Cliff Drive on Fly Creek. Management of the marina returned to the City in October 2017. Funding through the EPA and NOAA helped create a plan for Fairhope Docks to receive clean and resilient marina certification. These efforts led to the city receiving a Clean Vessel Act grant from the state to install the pump out station that will reduce water pollution in Fly Creek and Mobile Bay. For more info, call Fairhope Docks Marina office at 251-929-0365.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Bratton Brothers Invitational returning to its roots 50th anniversary will be celebrated March 4 at Craft Farms

The 50th Annual Bratton Brothers Invitational Golf Tournament will be contested in Gulf Shore the week of March 4th, 2019. All rounds will be played on the Craft Farm properties.

"Hopefully six of the original seven cast members (one is deceased) will be present," said event coordinator Greg Waldrop. "We are trying to get Golf Digest and the Golf Channel involved. Not sure at this time if they will work out."

"How many years after this one remain, we do not know," Waldrop added. "In 1970, the cost of a gallon of gas was $0.36. The cost of a 1st class stamp was $0.06. Richard Nixon was President. Average cost of an automobile was $3542.00. The population of Gulf Shores, AL was 909 people. Wow. How things have changed since we started our tournament."

The tourney's local history started when seven Birmingham golfing buddies traveled to Gulf Shores for a weekend of golf, staying in a two bedroom/one bath vacation home near the Intracoastal Waterway owned by the Bratton brothers' (Bobby, Charles, Joe and Richard) parents. The original cast members were Bob Bratton, Joe Bratton, Roy Dillon, Jim Lynch (deceased), Butch Mitchell, Waldrop and Waymond Whitten.

They played at Gulf Shores Country Club (the only course in the area) for $5 a day plus cart and played 36 holes on Saturday and 18 holes on Sunday. There were very few restaurants in Gulf Shores and the men ate all their meals at the Friendship House (now the Diner) in Gulf Shores and Meme's Restaurant (damaged by hurricane Frederic in September of 1979 and never reopened) in Bon Secour.

As participants invited more friends, the golf weekend grew into the current BBI, which has been held at 20 plus different golf courses in Alabama and Florida.

Tourney notes: There have been 581 golfers from 14 different states and Canada attending at least one tourney. In 1999, the tourney peaked with 156 golfers. Six players have aced holes during the tourney, including two hole-in-ones the same year – Norman Glass and Timothy Honeycutt (2009); Keith Howell (2015); Charles Martin (1980); William "Sleepy" Phillips (1999); and Waldrop (1972). The oldest winner is Dick Majors (known as Major Dick), who won the tournament at 86 years young. In 2009, the tourney was ambushed by Golf Digest's Matt Ginella, who presented players with beverage tickets and filmed festivities at the Peninsula Golf and Racquet Club. There is one sad note – 49 BBI Brothers have passed away. (More info at BBI.net)

It was a shoot-out at Blue Marlin Grand Championships

By Capt. Dave Lear

In the end, it came down to a shootout between two former Triple Crown champions with another four not-so-innocent bystanders during last week's Blue Marlin Grand Championship at The Wharf Marina. By the time the flames and smoke had cleared, only one was left standing. Strangely enough, that team had to settle for second place.

Perennial contender Done Deal did it again when the Houma, Louisiana team brought a 640.8-pound blue marlin to the scales. That fish, which had the leader wrapped behind its dorsal fin, was finally gaffed after being wired more than a dozen times. Katie Gonsoulin, daughter of boat owner Jon Gonsoulin, spent eight hours in the fighting chair in order to whip the 117-inch billfish.

"The team kept encouraging me, giving me water and food and keeping me cool," Katie said after the weight was announced to the crowd of thousands at The Wharf in Orange Beach. "These are the best guys ever and this was a total team effort."

"Katie was great," added Done Deal skipper Jason Buck. "She never gave up. I would have given up on that fish."

Done Deal's catch vaulted the team into second place in the blue marlin category but it was not enough to supplant Friday's leader, Shockwave. Breathe Easy, with Capt. Patrick Ivie on the throttles, made a late challenge by weighing the team's first marlin in the BMGC. At 598.2 pounds it would guarantee angler Rick Olsen and the team third place in the signature category.

Four other teams would weigh blue marlin on Saturday night in the final hours of the 2018 contest. Reel Addiction came up short in its quest for the Triple Crown Championship after weighing a 499.2-pound blue (Kenny Way). REHAB (486, Jasen Gast), Black Sheep (481, Ryan McKenzie) and Click Through (468, Keith English) also weighed Saturday night, which featured flames shooting out the mouth of the stainless steel marlin sculptures straddling the scales.

Done Deal settled for first place in the Release Division with four blues and one white released, good for 2,254 points. Team Galati was second with 2,004 points (four blues), followed by Melanie (2,003 points).

Larry Wireman and the Carib team set a new tournament record after boating a yellowfin that tipped the scales at 192.2 pounds. Nick Pratt, fishing aboard Hauling Away was second with a 183.2-pound fish, while Ashley Faulkner whipped a 158.6-pound yellowfin fishing on Team American.

This year's dolphin division was tightly contested with some nice bulls on display. Chris Williams on REHAB took top honors with his 45-pounder. Drew Marshall, competing aboard his family's boat, Traders Hill, was just behind with a 42.6-pound fish. Owner/angler Scott Cooper on CE rounded out the category with a 39.8 dolphin.

Billy Richardson, competing aboard Southern Miss, captured the top wahoo for the tournament after landing a 56.6 speedster. Joey Diffatta on Gunnfighter whipped a 49-pound 'hoo, while Neal Foster on Intense boated the third-largest fish at 34.6 pounds.

With $1.88 million in prize money on the line amongst the record 76-boat fleet, the 2018 Blue Marlin Grand Championship set several new benchmarks. Pictured: Congratulations to Johannh Bosarge, the 2018 Miss Billfish winner! Photos by the official photographer: Jenni Guerry Photography.

Gulf Shores Swim Team competes in Fairhope swim meets Gulf Shores will host Championship Meet July 27-28 at Bodenhamer

The Gulf Shores Swim Team recently traveled to Fairhope for two swim meets. On June 26, the Dolphins attended the Gulf Coast Area Aquatics League Relay Meet. On June 28, Gulf Shores swam against Fairhope and Foley.

The Dolphins finished in third place at the Relay Meet. Seven of the summer league teams participated in this meet, which consisted of 17 events that were all four-person relay races. Fairhope won the meet, and the Eastern Shore Piranhas came in second place. Gulf Shores posted three first place teams and three second place teams at the meet. The Dolphins had 26 swimmers at the Relay Meet.

The Gulf Shores Swim Team struck gold in three of the Mixed 10 and Under Events. The 100 Yard Freestyle Relay team consisted of: Jack Biggs, Murray Reed, Liam Silva and Sierra Caldwell. The Kickboard relay team consisted of: Murray Reed, Serah Smith, Jack Biggs and Sierra Caldwell. The Backstroke relay team included: Jack Biggs, Nolan Matthews, Liam Silva and Serah Smith. This age group also earned second place for the Dolphins in the Breaststroke and Butterfly relay races.

The Thursday night meet on June 28 focused on longer summer league events: 100 Yard Freestyle, 50 Freestyle and 100 Individual Medley. Fairhope won the meet with 408 points. Gulf Shores came in second place with 314 points, and Foley scored 45 points.

The Dolphins had 35 swimmers at the meet. Gulf Shores won eight of the 17 events at the meet. Event winners included: Callie Hopkins, Murray Reed, Joseph Zarzaur, Ruby Rosnagle, and Emma Lloyd.

The Dolphins also hosted the Eastern Shore Piranhas at a Fairhope Area Swim Team in dual meets earlier this summer.

The Dolphins beat the Piranhas 518 to 385. Gulf Shores won three of the five relay events contested and 21 of the 44 individual events. Multiple event winners for the home team included: Ruby Rosnagle, Jack Biggs, Callie Hopkins, Liam Silva, and Serah Smith. New swimmers for the team this summer were: David Cerventes, Ruby Cerventes, Fiona Douglas, David Green, Win Spence, and Gavin Taylor.

The Fairhope Sharks won 480 to 476 in the closest meet in recent memory for the Dolphins. Gulf Shores won 22 of the 46 individual events and two of the four relay events. Gulf Shores had 62 swimmers entered in the meet.

Murray Reed, age 10, broke three team records. He set new age group records in the 25-yard Breaststroke, 25 Butterfly, and 50 Freestyle.

"I am optimistic that we are going to improve during the season and have a fine showing at the end of the season championship meet that will be a home meet for us. All of our age groups are contributing to the team's success," said Head Coach Brook Hopkins.

The League Championship Meet to be held at the Dolphins' home pool on July 27 and 28. All eight league teams will attend and compete in three divisions.

For more info about the team, contact the Aquatics Director for the City of Gulf Shores, Brook Hopkins, at 251-968-1427. The Swim Team practices in the mornings at the Bodenhamer Center in Gulf Shores five days per week.

Liberty Church will show I Can Only Imagine Aug. 3

The community is invited to a free movie night at Liberty Church in Foley on Friday, Aug. 3 at 7 p.m. The movie is I Can Only Imagine and proceeds from concessions will help the church purchase shoeboxes for OCC. The church is located at 110 Riviera Dr.

Correction

In the story in the 7/3/18 issue, with the headline "Gulf Shores to pay for sidewalks, bike paths in beach road repaving and another entrance to Gulf State Park Pier," we attributed a quote from a Volkert, Inc. employee to the wrong person. Jay Dickson of Volkert, Inc. should have been attributed.

New fine arts adventure starts Aug. 4 at O.B. Library

On Saturday, August 4, the Orange Beach Public Library will be hosting a new program, "Tales from Yarnia: A Fiber Arts Adventure," presented by Michelle Johnson. The program will be held in the library meeting room from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. In this first installment, cleverly titled "Feeling a Bit Loomy," Michelle will teach patrons how to knit a hat, without ever needing to learn a stitch! This program is open to adults and crafty kids ages 12 and older. Call (251)-981-2923 for more info.

Commemoration of Battle & Siege of Fort Morgan Aug. 4

A commemoration of the Battle of Mobile Bay and siege of Fort Morgan is scheduled from 8:30 a.m. 'til 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 4 at Fort Morgan Historic Site, located at 110 Hwy. 180 in Gulf Shores.

This one day living history event will remember the sacrifices of the United States Armed Forces and Confederate States Armed Forces during this pivotal naval battle and siege. Uniformed interpreters will bring the fort to life through demonstration of period drills on the fort's parade ground as well as artillery demonstration at the water battery. Special talks given by the site historians will provide insight into the events that transpired as well as introduce topics little written about in books.

For more info, call 251-540-5257 or visit fort-morgan.org.

The Battle of Mobile Bay is one of the iconic confrontations of the American Civil War at sea. During the three-day event, the fort's museum will feature rarely exhibited artifacts from three of the fleet of ships engaged during the battle; the USS Tecumseh, USS Philippi, and the CSS Gaines.

The USS Tecumseh, an ironclad ship widely thought to be unsinkable, sank during the Battle of Mobile Bay when she struck a mine called torpedoes during the war. The ship capsized and rests upside down northwest of Fort Morgan.

Union Admiral David Farragut, lashed to the rigging of his ship, saw his fleet pulling back after Tecumseh went under. That's when Farragut yelled out his now famous order, paraphrased as, "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead."

The USS Philippi was set afire by Confederate artillery and destroyed while following Admiral David Farragut's fleet into Mobile Bay. The CSS Gaines was heavily damaged during the Battle of Mobile Bay and as she took on water became grounded within 500 yards of Fort Morgan. Overlooking Mobile Bay, Fort Morgan went on to contribute during the Spanish-American War, World War I and World War II.

Battle of Fort Morgan Schedule

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Local actress Jennifer Dawson premieres new film

Local actress Jennifer K. Dawson's latest film, F5Teraphobia, recently premiered in Hattiesburg, MS. Dawson is known locally as an actress, director and board member at South Baldwin Community Theater in Gulf Shores. Most of the movie was shot in Hattiesburg and Spanish Fort.

On stage, Dawson has played characters ranging from a gospel singing mother to a loving matriarch of a true southern family.

But the character she plays in F5Teraphobia is very different than her stage rolls.

"Ms. Grady" is someone you would never trust your kids with, even though she works with a child psychologist.

"I played this character similar to what you might see in American Horror Story. You love to hate her," Dawson said.

"It was a great experience working with everyone. It was like a true family with all the kids around," Dawson said. "They were all so professional and some had never been on set before. I was very happy with how our scenes were directed and shot."

Dawson is currently working at the University Of South Alabama as a standardized patient, which helps keep her acting skills sharp and the medical students on their toes.

Hattiesburg native Kimberly Taylor Fagan is the writer, director and executive producer of the suspense thriller based loosely on true events. The audience follows a group of five children who are full of surprises as they navigate through the community of Happy Valley. The movie pushes the limits and has a fresh content to offer the horror genre.

"This has been a dream of mine for a long time and I'm so happy with how it has turned out," Dawson said.

Pictured: Kimberly Taylor Fagan and Jennifer Dawson on set; On set photo with the youth cast and Chaz Singleton, cameraman; Tea time with "Ms. Grady" between scenes.

Come learn about and see Red Planet Aug. 8 in Foley

The Foley Public Library will present A Night With the Red Planet on Wednesday, August 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the library's upstairs meeting room.

Instructor for Nebraska University of Omaha is the speaker. He will talk for approximately 20 minutes.

Attendees are then invited to join us in the back parking lot for a viewing of Mars, Saturn, and Venus through a 10 inch telescope.

Mars and the Earth are getting closer every day. This results in Mars getting brighter and larger.

By June 27, Earth, Mars, and the Sun will be in a line. This is called opposition, and from our perspective here on Earth, Mars will be completely lit by the Sun.

On July 31, Mars and the Earth will be at their closest which allows for excellent viewing of Mars through a telescope. While Mars is normally small and dim, this will provide for an opportunity to see it in much more detail.

Seating will be limited for this presentation, please call 251-943-7665 to reserve a seat. For more information on this program, visit foleylibrary.org or email Melanie at mschnieders@cityoffoley.org.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

BLACK BEAR SIGHTINGS CONTINUE TO INCREASE: Add Jackson, Limestone, Marshall, Morgan and St. Clair counties to the growing list of black bear sightings in Alabama in 2018. In recent years, bears have also been recorded in Chambers, Elmore, Jefferson, Lee, Macon and Tallapoosa counties. These recent sightings are more evidence of the state's expanding black bear population. Biologists from the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources say the increase in sightings may be due to a combination of factors including changes in bear distribution, habitat fragmentation, seasonal movement and the summer mating season. However, most spring and summer bear sightings are of juvenile males being pushed out of their previous ranges by their mothers and other adult males.

Historically, a small population of black bears have remained rooted in Mobile and Washington counties. Baldwin, Covington and Escambia counties on the Florida border host yet another population of bears. In northeast Alabama, bears migrating from northwest Georgia have established a small but viable population.

"While seeing a black bear in Alabama is uncommon and exciting, it is no cause for alarm," said Marianne Freshwater, Conservation Outreach Specialist for the Alabama Division of Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries (WFF). "There has never been a black bear attack on a human in Alabama."

Black bears are typically secretive, shy animals that will avoid human interaction. Occasionally, a curious bear will explore a human-populated area in search of food. "If you are lucky enough to see a bear, simply leave it alone," Hudson said.

Pictured: ADCNR: WFF is currently working with Auburn University researchers and other state and federal agencies to collect data on the state's black bear population and movements. This data will be used to make scientific decisions regarding bear management.

Weeks Bay Foundation Pelican Paddle Aug. 4

Get your paddling arms ready to work! The Weeks Bay Foundation will host the 6th annual Pelican Paddle, a canoe, kayak, and paddle board race, on Saturday, August 4, on beautiful Weeks Bay.

Pelican Paddle is a fun, family-oriented, 3.5-mile race that's open to all ages and skill levels. Plus, there's a seven-mile pro option for the serious paddlers, and a non-competitive Eco-tour of Weeks Bay that includes a guided paddle to a Bald Eagle nest. Race divisions are: Men's Kayak, Women's Kayak, Junior Kayak, Pro Kayak, Men's Stand Up Paddle Board, Women's Stand Up Paddle Board, Tandem Craft, and Non-Traditional (single canoes, pedal kayaks, etc.). The race begins at 9 a.m., and the Eco-tour begins shortly after.

Advance registration is $30 per paddler or $70 per family. Day-of-race registration is $35 per paddler and $85 per family. A family can include up to two adults and up to four minors under age 18. The first 200 people to register will receive a reusable, steel water bottle. All registrants (21 and over) will receive drink tickets for two complimentary Serda Brewing beers.

Loaner gear will also be available on a first-come, first-served basis, but must be reserved in advance. Participants interested in borrowing gear must call the Foundation at 251-990-5004. For more information and to register, call 251-990-5004, or register at weeksbay.org/events.

SOUTH BALDWIN LITERACY COUNCIL RECEIVES GRANT: The South Baldwin Literacy Council was recently awarded a $5,000 grant from the Holy Spirit Thrift Shop. The South Baldwin Literacy Council is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing literacy instruction to help people in our community make a better life for themselves and their families. They have a reading program for children that focuses on dyslexia. They have a sensory-sensitive summer reading program for children diagnosed with Autisms. They have a money budgeting skills classes, and they continue with their Book and a Bear program that provides South Baldwin Regional Medical Center pediatric patients with a bear, a book of their choice, and material about the importance of reading to children. Pictured: Volunteer Sara Walker, Manager Alicia Gattenio, Adult Literacy Coordinator Tammy Stacey, Executive Director Vaughn Best, Volunteers Paula Tiepal and Bob Swartz.

Orange Beach Library adds to language learning collection

Thanks to the 2018 LSTA Grant, the Orange Beach Public Library has recently added an impressive amount of materials to their language learning collections.

For adults, the library has added a considerable amount of materials from Pimsleur. With Pimsleur, you don't just study a new language, you learn to speak and to communicate in a new language. Pimsleur materials are perfect for the person who doesn't want to spend a lot of time in front of the computer, or has a need for flexibility because of a hectic or busy schedule. The library offers materials for learning Italian, French, Mandarin, Brazilian Portuguese, Spanish, Russian, etc. with multiple levels of each language available to help continue progress.

Because the learning styles of every person are different, and some languages may not be represented in the collection, the Orange Beach Library also provides patrons access to Rosetta Stone language learning software, which can be found through the library website at www.orangebeachlibrary.org.

For children, the library has added a number of materials from Muzzy BBC, and the Teach Me series of everyday language. Trusted by parents, teachers and librarians for over 30 years, Muzzy BBC is hoping to start a new generation on their journey to learning new languages. The library now boasts Muzzy materials for learning French, English, Spanish, German, Mandarin, Italian, etc.

In the Teach Me series, the Orange Beach Library has added Everyday German, Italian, Chinese, French, and Spanish, volumes 1 and 2.

Materials can be found in the front of the library, displayed on top of the large print shelf. As always, materials check out for two weeks at a time, and if more time is needed, the staff will happily renew your items, so long as there isn't a hold on them.

For more info, call the library at 251-981-2923.

Huey helicopter rides offered August 4 in Orange Beach

On Saturday, August 4th, the non-profit Friends of Army Aviation - Ozark will be providing "Legacy Helicopter Rides" in a vintage Vietnam War-era Bell UH-1 Huey combat helicopter from the helipad, near the Orange Beach Event Center at The Wharf.

The flights will begin at 10 a.m. and last until 5 p.m. Each flight will last 10 minutes and the cost will be $50 per person. There will be room for up to 10 people on each flight. Each flight will be piloted by a veteran Vietnam War combat pilot. The flights will take off and land from the helipad at Wharf Parkway West.

The public is invited to come out and experience history and take a ride with Friends of Army Aviation - Ozark.

The Friends of Army Aviation - Ozark is an IRS 501(c)3 Veterans nonprofit organization dedicated to preserving the legacy of U.S. Army Aviation through its museum and flyable Vietnam-era aircraft. For more information, visit friendsofarmyaviationozark.org.

July 19-22 Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo on Dauphin Isle is largest in the world Event includes music from Mulligans, Wes Loper, Rollin' In The Hay, Winston Ramble

The 85th Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo will be held July 19-22 on Dauphin Island. The ADSFR is a 3-day Captain's Choice tournament and a Southern Kingfish Association (SKA) sanctioned event with a total awards package valued up to one million dollars in cash and prizes and anchored by a boat, motor, and trailer packages.

The 3-day event features 30 categories with prizes awarded for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in all categories. One Master Angler is also awarded along with cash prizes for King Mackerel, Speckled Trout and Big Game Jackpots.

The ADSFR has donated over $275,000 to the University of South Alabama Department of Marine Sciences and annually funds academic scholarships.

Festivities kick-off at the Rodeo site with the annual Liar's Contest on Thursday, July 19 at 6 p.m. Rodeo ticket holders can participate in the competition by telling their best, or worst, fish tale. A distinguished panel of invited judges will determine the winners. Live music by Rollin' In The Hay will follow.

The weigh station will be operating from 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Sunday. Fishing will begin with a ceremonial cannon blast on Friday, July 20 at 5 a.m. and will conclude with an additional ceremonial cannon blast on Sunday, July 22 at 5 p.m.

Bands will play all weekend on the stage at the rodeo's home base at 531 Lemoyne Dr., located 2.5 miles from the Dauphin Island ferry landing. There is no admission, and refreshments, including beer, will be served.

The rodeo, a Project of the Mobile Jaycees, is the largest fishing tournament in the world. Founded in 1929, it now attracts over 3,000 anglers and 75,000 spectators. Tickets for the ADSFR Open competition are $50 per angler. Options are also available for a speckled trout and kick mackerel jackpots. For tourney or ticket info, call (251) 471-0025 or visit adsfr.com.

Rodeo History

In the sultry summer of 1928, a party of Mobile businessmen were sliding through the tides of Mobile Bay, their fishing lines stretched for that elusive Big One. Surprisingly, the Big One struck. But the catch was no hard-fighting fish, it was a simple, but grand idea of organizing a competitive fishing tournament. The first rodeo in 1929 was such a success that Quinn suggested an association be formed to perpetuate the contest on an annual basis. The first competitive fishing event in America to be dubbed a rodeo had hosted (at the time) a staggering 260 widely enthusiastic sports fishermen.

The first rodeo ticket was $5 and covered sleeping quarters and special prizes. Meals were a la carte seafood delicacies. Also, because a fast news service was needed to transmit news of daily catches to town, carrier pigeons were pressed into service.

In earlier years Fort Gaines Pier headquartered the Rodeo. A boat ride was the only transportation to the island. Rodeo brochures boasted, "There's a fish for everybody at the rodeo and they bite as a matter of civic pride."

Nineteen years later, in 1948, the Mobile Junior Chamber of Commerce, and subsequently the Mobile Jaycees, assumed leadership of a rodeo which had grown too grand to be staged every year by interested individuals alone.

The Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo continues to be conservation minded in all its efforts with the input from Dr. Bob Shipp regarding the state of the fisheries in the Gulf of Mexico

Outdoor Alabama Photo Contest entry deadline is Oct. 31

The Outdoor Alabama Photo Contest is now accepting entries through October 31. The contest is a joint project between the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, the Alabama Tourism Department and the Alabama Bicentennial Commission. The photo contest is open to state residents and visitors alike, but qualifying photos must have been taken in Alabama.

Contest coordinator Kim Nix says a new category connects the celebration of statehood to the photo contest, which is in its 14th year. "We added an Alabama Bicentennial category this year. Photos in this category could include historical parks, forts, lighthouses, battlefields or archeological sites. Those are just some examples—it's a broad category.

"Our other new category this year is Waterfalls. It's been such a popular subject for photos in previous contests that we decided to make it a focal point this year," she said. "Ultimately, our goal is to encourage residents and visitors to explore Alabama's outdoor spaces and document them through photography."

The contest is open to adults and youth. A total of 10 photos per person may be entered in the following categories: Alabama Bicentennial, Birds of a Feather, Bugs and Butterflies, Coastal Life, Cold-blooded Critters, Nature-Based Recreation, Shoots and Roots, State Park Adventures, Sweet Home Alabama, Watchable Wildlife, Waterfalls, Young Photographer.

Category explanations and additional entry information may be found at www.outdooralabama.com/photo-contest. Entry is restricted to the online upload of digital images, which can be completed from a computer, tablet or mobile phone. The deadline for entries is October 31, 2018. First, second, third and one honorable mention will be awarded in each category. Winning images will be featured online and in a traveling exhibit across the state during 2019. An exhibit of 2018 winners is currently on display around the state. For more information, call 334-242-3151 or email Kim Nix at kim.nix@dcnr.alabama.gov.

AROUND TOWN

Anchored Beach Fest Aug. 18 at Orange Beach Event Center

Local churches, businesses, and nonprofits will come together once again to celebrate community and worship among friends at the Anchored Beach Fest on Saturday, August 18 at the Orange Beach Event Center.

Doors to the Event Center will open at 3 p.m. with the Anchored Beach Fest running from 4 to 8 p.m. In addition to food, fun and fellowship, the family-friendly event, hosted by Orange Beach United Methodist Church, will include worship music by Noah Cleveland and Joshua Aaron and guest speakers Travis Crim and Clayton Jennings. There will also be retail vendors and nonprofit resource information.

For information on being a vendor, setting up a nonprofit display, sponsoring or volunteering, e-mail anchoredbeachfest@gmail.com or visit the Anchored Beach Fest Facebook page.

Tacky Jacks-Gulf Shores Summer of Lunchtime Fun

Tacky Jacks Gulf Shores presents the 6th Annual Summer of Fun, a series of weekly lunch time activities at the waterfront venue. Different events will include regional artists, local organizations, and musicians each Tuesday through Friday beginning June 5. A monthly schedule of events is online at tackyjacks.com and below.

• Tuesdays: Hands on Habitat is a fun and educational hands on nature series. Kids & adults alike can learn about our ecosystem and interact with the animals that live here with us. The event is free for all ages from 11am-12pm (arrive 15 minutes early), no RSVP required.

• Wednesdays: Art al Fresco is a hands on lunch & learn for starving artists of all ages. Create different works of art & crafts every Wednesday this summer. All ages lunch & learn every Wednesday 11am-12pm (arrive 15 minutes early) RSVP required in advance by phone at 251-948-8881 or online, includes lunch, fee: child or adult pricing depends on project, free for spectators and for demo days. Demo days is lunch on your own and is not included.

• Thursdays: Tacky Jacks Beach Games is all about a little friendly competition. Kid's ages 6-12 compete every Thursday this summer in relay races, challenges, and brain teasers! All participants get a free lunch from Tacky Jacks and prizes! From 11am-12pm (arrive early to ensure availability).

BETA SIGMA PHI, GULF SHORES: On July 17, members of Beta Sigma Phi, Gulf Shores Theta Master Chapter, met in Bon Secour to tour the Swift-Coles Home, circa 1882. The chapter was treated with a very informative tour and history of the home. The group then went to Cactus Cantina Mexican Restaurant for a delicious lunch and monthly chapter meeting.

Get ready to run.

Funny Bones

By George Ridder

Toward the end of the Sunday service, the Minister asked, "How many of you have forgiven your enemies?" 80% held up their hands. The Minister then repeated his question. All responded this time, except one man, Walter Barnes, who attended church only when the weather was bad.

"Mr. Barnes, it's obviously not a good morning for golf. It's good to see you here today. Are you not willing to forgive your enemies?"
"I don't have any," he replied gruffly.
"Mr. Barnes, that is very unusual. How old are you?"
"Ninety-eight," he replied. The congregation stood up and clapped their hands.

"Oh, Mr. Barnes, would you please come down in front and tell us all how a person can live ninety-eight years and not have an enemy in the world?"

The old golfer tottered down the aisle, stopped in front of the pulpit, turned around, faced the congregation, and said simply, "I outlived all of them," and he calmly returned to his seat.

I was going to post a time-traveling joke...But you guys didn't like it.

A guy calls AAA: "I'm stranded on the side of the road."
AAA: "At least you have a shoulder to cry on."

Junk is something you throw away three weeks before you need it.

Off the seventh tee, Joe sliced his shot deep into a wooded ravine. He took his eight iron and clambered down the embankment in search of his lost ball. After many long minutes of hacking at the underbrush, he spotted something glistening in the leaves. As he drew nearer, he discovered that it was an eight iron in the hands of a skeleton!

Joe immediately called out to his friend, "Jack, I've got trouble down here!"
"What's the matter?" Jack asked from the edge of the ravine.
"Bring me my wedge," Joe shouted.
"You can't get out of here with an eight iron!"

My Doctor told me to avoid any unnecessary stress.
To comply, I did not open his bill.

I found a rock that is 1760 feet long...It must be a Milestone!

A state trooper, stopped a woman for going 15 miles over the speed limit.
After he handed her a ticket, she asked him, "Don't you give out warnings?"
"Yes, ma'am," he replied. "They're all up and down the road. They say, 'Speed Limit 65.'"

A flea jumped into a restaurant, nibbled on a pizza and jumped out again and landed on the hard pavement.
He picked himself up, dusted himself down and said, "OK, who moved my dog?"

Vincent Van Gogh had a really large family. Here's a listing of some of the lesser known relatives:
• The really obnoxious brother - Please Gogh
• The brother who ate prunes -

Gotta Gogh
• His dizzy aunt - Verti Gogh
• An aunt who taught positive thinking - Wayto Gogh
• And his magician uncle - Where-diddy Gogh

Electricians are always watching the news..They like to keep up with current events.

My boss didn't come in to work today. He called this morning and said he was having a vision problem.

When I asked what was wrong, he replied, "I just can't see myself at work today."

Why is it that everyone is so worn out on April 01? They have just endured a March of 31 days!

Patrons at the zoo were astonished to see an old man jump over the bars of the lion's cage. Seemingly oblivious to the danger, he walked among the fierce creatures holding the latest bestselling book in his hands, intently perusing its contents. The spectators were beside themselves.

"What in the world is he doing?" shouted one.

"Is he crazy? He's going to get killed!" yelled another.

"Don't worry about him," replied the man's son. "That's just my dad. He likes to read between the lions."

Lady (to her doctor): "What I am worried about is my height and not my weight."

Doctor: "How come?"
Lady: "According to my weight, my height should be 7 feet, 8 inches."

My friend: "I work at Google!"
Me: "That's great, I google at work."
