Shrimp Fest cancelled for second consecutive year

Orange Beach immediately announces plans for Oct. 9 Freedom Fest at Wharf

By Fran Thompson

The sponsoring Coastal Alabama Business Chamber has cancelled the Oct. 7-10 National Shrimp Festival, the organization's primary fundraiser, for the second consecutive years due to its concerns with the spread of COVID-19 during the event that attracts around 200,000 visitors over a four day period.

In immediate response, The City of Orange Beach announced that it will host Freedom Fest on Saturday, Oct. 9 at The Wharf as a substitute for the cancelled National Shrimp Festival.

Orange Beach Mayor Tony Kennon issued a statement announcing Freedom Fest to provide a venue for artists and visitors who have already planned to be in Pleasure Island during the second weekend in October.

Like Shrimp Fest, Freedom Fest will include art vendors, local music and food.

"I'm happy to report that because of our City Council, the wonderful people in the City of Orange Beach, City employees and an accommodating staff at The Wharf, this event will happen," Mayor Kennon said. "People have the right to choose what they wish to attend and decide the risks they are willing to take, especially for an outdoor event like this one."

Brooks & Dunn are scheduled to perform at The Wharf Amphitheater and The Addams Family Musical Comedy will raise the curtains at the Orange Beach Event Center at The Wharf following Freedom Fest.

The Chamber claimed it came to the "extremely difficult" decision after consulting with volunteers, health care officials, Orange Beach - Gulf Shores Tourism and business partners.

"After weighing many factors surrounding this 4-day event, it has been decided that the health risks to our volunteers in particular; but also vendors, citizens, and visitors are too great and the festival is being cancelled," the Chamber stated in a press release.

"Several concerns entail our local hospitals ability to care for a large influx of new cases while at near capacity with existing patients. Also, our volunteers' prolonged multi-day exposure to many attendees while in an environment that is impossible to control crowd size with safe distancing of patrons."

According to the Chamber, a large number of volunteers have voiced legitimate concerns over their safety, equating to a reduced ability to adequately manage and man the event.

Freedom Fest will accommodate up to 100 vendor spaces, and artists who were already booked for Shrimp Fest will have priority. (For vendor info, email jfitz@orangebeachal.gov.)

"People have the right to choose what they wish to attend and decide the risk they are willing to take, just like sitting in a sold-out football stadium with a hundred thousand other folks. We know that it is late notice and we may not be able to pull this off, but we do need to make a statement that this virus will not dominate and control our lives," said Mayor Kennon.

The Coastal Alabama Business Chamber's statement cancelling the Shrimp Fest noted that the 2021 tourist season was a record breaking year and projections are strong for a busy fall even without Shrimp Fest, the busiest tourist weekend of the year.

"Our goal will be to work hard in making improvements to the festival in 2022, not only providing a quality experience but also to improve crowd monitoring and better controlled access," read the Chamber statement. "It has been decided that this cannot be safely done (this year) when gathering a large number of people and vendors in a confined space over four days.

Gulf Shores "Goes Pink" for Guardians of the Ribbon Pink Heals

Join firefighters & women's club for hotdogs at Oct. 3 community event

Gulf Shores will "Go Pink" on Oct. 3 from from 3-6 p.m. at the Gulf Shores Fire Station at 1921 West First St., as Gulf Shores Fire & Rescue will turn on the grills and cook hotdogs for a free community gathering to kick off Gulf Shores Goes Pink. Attendees will social distance and masks are encouraged.

The Pink Heals started in 2007 to help people battling cancer with a focus on women and what they mean to us in our daily lives. Since that time the program has evolved to be the driving force of change in the way this country is raising funds.

The Pink Heals have taken the theme of the Public Safety with Pink Fire Trucks and Pink Police Cars to serve our community by putting people first instead of causes, believing that money raised in our communities, counties and states should remain there, giving us the option to either put it towards research or deliver one hundred percent of the money generated by fundraisers to the people that need it the most.

Everyone is and can be involved. This is also about bringing a community together to show love and hope for the women, their caregivers, and their families.

The Lower Alabama Chapter makes surprise visits when requested by a family, the local fire department will put on the pink fire fighting gear and with flashing lights visit the home of the patient. While there, they will present something money cannot buy, a Pinky the Bear in pink fire fighter gear. Pinky is for the honored cancer patient or the caregiver as a symbol of strength and hope. It is something to "hold on to" in tough times.

Other sponsors include Phil Harris Construction, Fedok Facial Plastic Surgery, Rapid Response, C Properties, W & W Remodeling & Painting, Proforma Business Impact, Watertoys2 U, and Specialty Bakery & Party Shoppe.

Shepard said BCA will help accomodate visitors who have a hard time walking or are in a wheelchair.

The BCA was formed as an extension of the Hummer/Bird Study Group, which under the direction of Bob Sargeant, started conducting spring and fall bird banding camps at Fort Morgan in 1989.

Sargeant, considered the patriarch of Alabama bird banders, and his wife, Martha, trained more than 100 volunteers how to fit birds with identification so that their movements can be tracked and studied.

The Sargents set up stations, had two vans, 70 nets, and rented houses for their banders. They led educational programs for the public as they released birds.

Bob Sargeant died in 2014, but his legacy lives on through those he taught.

"Our entire board of directors was trained how to band birds at this very site under Bob and Martha Sargent and the rest of the Hummer/Bird Study Group (HBSG)," said Shepard.

"We are proud to be carrying on the legacy of the Sargents by continuing the almost 40 years of research they conducted at Ft. Morgan and elsewhere. This event is the perfect place to get an up close and personal look at what bird banding is and learn how our research can help protect the species that live in and pass through our state."

Shepard said he first attended a HBSG banding event at Ft. Morgan at the age of 10 and banded his first bird at Ft. Morgan two years later. He said being mentored by leaders in avian field research enabled the BCA directors to form its non-profit.

"It was a very rare opportunity in its own right, but even more so as I was the youngest trainee the crew had taken on at that time," he said.

"We formed BCA as a way to continue avian research and further educate anyone who will listen about the species around us as well as the vital role that our coastal ecosystems play in migration," he said.

For more BCA info, visit bandingcoalition.org, facebook or call Shepard at 251-269-6527.

"Early morning is usually the best time to see the most birds. However, predicting birds is a very hard thing to do," Shepard said.

Shepard said he and fellow directors Emma Rhodes, and Julia Elliott (pictured above) started with the Hummer/Bird Study Group (HBSG).

"The reason we are the banders and researchers we are today is thanks to Bob and Martha Sargent. They took us under their wings and trained us at the Fort Morgan State Historic Site banding station in Alabama, an operation the Sargents ran for over 30 years. It is our mission to continue their legacy," he said. "Like any successful non-profit, the Sargents needed a hand with running such an incredible program. Along with the honor of joining the ranks of HBSG, we were always surrounded by accomplished banders who were willing to share their vast knowledge from their many decades of work."

O.B. Students Send Messages Of Encouragement & Comeback Coolers To Louisiana

Baldwin County, through its government agencies, churches, schools and community groups, has stepped up to lend assistance to those hit hardest in Louisiana by Hurricane Ida. This is fitting, since Louisiana was there for Baldwin County when Hurricane Sally made landfall in Orange Beach exactly one year earlier. One of the numerous ways Baldwin County communities are helping is through the Ocean Springs based Comeback Coolers program, which delivers food, water, and other essentials to storm hit areas. The Orange Beach Middle. Elementary and High School PTO's organized to fill 300 coolers and also collected $6,000 to help Comeback Coolers continue their mission. Orange Beach students (pictured) decorated the coolers with inspirational messages to pay it forward to those communities that were so quick to reach out and help last year. A post on the PTO facebook page summed the mission up perfectly: "Always remember that kindness doesn't just change other people's lives, it also changes yours. Together we can change the world, one good deed at a time." (More info: comebackcoolers.com).

GULF SHORES CITY COUNCIL

Gulf Shores hopes fifth time is lucky with Embassy Suites extension

With no other offers, city gives developers 'til June 30, 2022 to find investors

By John Mullen, Mullet Wrapper

Gulf Shores is preparing to offer developers of a proposed Embassy Suites Hotel across from Gulf Place a fifth extension of the day to begin the project.

"We keep giving extensions because we don't of anything that would better fit that property in our vision of doing something with a full-service hotel of significance there in Gulf Shores," Mayor Robert Craft said. "I'm excited that we're finally moving forward with a project we've been working on for years."

The latest start date for D.D. Partners has been changed to June 30, 2022, with a target completion date of Sept. 30, 2024. The council will discuss the proposal during the Sept. 20 work session at 4 p.m. at city hall. The council will vote on the extension at the Sept. 27 regular session which is days before the latest extension expires on Sept. 30.

In 2015 the city sought proposals from parties interested in developing a 1.93-acre parcel owned by the city directly west of the Alvin's Island beach store at the corner of State Route 59 and State Route 182 or beach road. In March of 2016 a selection committee formed by the city recommended the Embassy Suites project.

During the design phase, the city asked developers to increase the size for meeting space in the hotel to offer another venue to host meetings in Gulf Shores. To make that happen the city offered a tax incentive of a 42 percent tax rebate in the first three years of operation and 35 percent each following year until the $6.5 million to add the meeting space was recouped. There are still plans for it to include 11,800 square feet of meeting space including a 7,800 square foot ballroom.

Changes to the original design made during one of the extension requests was making the hotel eight instead of 10 stories, scaling the rooftop pool area from 23,000 square feet to 10,000 and upping the number of rooms from 229 to 254, according to city documents.

Economic Development Coordinator Blake Phelps said investors willing to risk taking a chance on new conference space during the pandemic were hard to find but that may be changing. The price tag for the project is about $85 million.

"In a nutshell they are starting to see some positive response in the capital markets," Phelps said. "Things seem to be opening back up as far as interest in financing projects like this. Primarily full-service hotels with significant meeting space that was not the type project that anyone was interested in investing in. It's still not a slam dunk by any stretch of the imagination.

"It's still complicated but they are certainly encouraged by the conversations they are having and the reactions they are getting in the market. This time last year you weren't even having a conversation. The answer was just a flat out no because no one knew where things were headed."

In 2018, Dr. Keivan Deravi of Auburn University at Montgomery said the hotel could have a $65 million economic impact and that direct local tax revenues are expected to be $1.8 million a year and $22.6 million during the first 10 years.

During the Sept. 20 work session, the council will also discuss:

• Ratification of new lease between Legal Air Properties and the Airport Authority for 14,345 square feet of land in the Southwest Corporate Hangar complex for the construction of a 60 x 80 square foot aircraft storage hangar facility. The Airport Authority will receive about $4,000 a year in the lease.

• Renewing a lease with J & J Enterprises lease an existing medical office building presently occupied by Symbol Clinic. The lease will expire on Dec. 31. The city has the option to renew for one year starting Jan. 1 and if that option is exercised there will be a 3 percent increase in the monthly fee. Currently the city pays $2,788 per month for the clinic which serves city employees and their dependents.

• Setting the municipal court's dates for 2022. The court usually convenes on Mondays and Thursdays.

• Accepting a bid to buy rye grass seed from Coastal Inventory Supply of Robertsdale at $2.85 a pound. According to city documents Gulf Shores spends more than $15,000 annually on rye seed.

• Rezoning a 1.99-acre lot at Northshore Drive and Landward Street from residential to general business.

Tweaks requested for beachfront restaurant on condo row

Oct. 5 public hearing will address changes to project that will create a public beach in O.B.

By John Mullen

The group looking to develop a beachfront restaurant and gift shop on a parcel adjacent to a planned city parking lot for residents is going before the Orange Beach City Council to request some changes in its plan.

During the joint council work and regular session on Sept. 21 the council set a public hearing date to talk about the proposed changes to the planned unit development for CoastAL which is being developed by some of the owners of the Flora-Bama Lounge and Oyster Bar. The public hearing date will be Oct. 5.

Among the changes sought are:

- Increasing the footprint of the outdoor bar
- Increasing the gross floor area of the restaurant
- Reducing the restaurant building's setback on the east
- Modifying the front façade of the restaurant building

In December, the council voted unanimously to allow the restaurant on the eastern half of the property which is near the main intersection in town at the Hwy. 61 and the beach. The city agreed to pay for 400 feet of the total 800 feet fronting the Gulf.

Mayor Tony Kennon said it has been a goal of the city to own some beach front property and the city's portion will be used for parking for city residents wishing to visit the beach.

Developers have said the project will be similar to the Shunk Gulley Oyster Bar in Santa Rosa, Florida, also owned by some of the same partners in this development.

During the 9/21 regular session, the council:

- OK'd a resolution awarding the bid for Dinner Theater Catering Services to The Wharf Restaurant Group for $42,000.
- OK'd a resolution awarding the bid for Christmas decorations to Winterland for $49,950.
- OK'd a resolution authorizing the purchase of a Ford F-150 pickup for the Fire Department from State Bid in the amount of $38,217.
- OK'd a resolution in support of a Baldwin County Recycling Cooperative to keep "that moving forward with a feasibility study to determine the effectiveness of a" cooperative.
- OK'd a resolution authorizing the sole source purchase of three submersible pumps from Jim House & Associates for the Utilities Department in the amount of $124,932.
- OK'd a resolution authorizing the execution of a right-of-way use agreement for Island Fiber.

During the 9/21 work session, the council discussed:

- A resolution authorizing the execution of amendment one to the subaward grant agreement with The Nature Conservancy for the NRDA funded Restoration Alternatives Analysis and Conservation Management Plan.
- A resolution authorizing the purchase of two pickup trucks for the Coastal Resources Department through Sourcewell in the amount of $73,963. According to city documents, "these Ford F-250 vehicles will be replacing the two trucks used for nightly clean up on the beach for five seasons."

12 new Tahoes for OBPD; Canal Rd. resurfacing almost finished

By John Mullen

Orange Beach City Council approved the purchase of 12 new Chevy Tahoes at the Sept. 7 meeting bringing the total to 20 new vehicles and three used vehicles purchased for the police department this year. The purchase of the 12 Tahoes was $425,763, including a $6,000 delivery fee.

"Some of these (cars) were hail-damaged but in the fleet a lot of them got a lot of hail damage," Councilman Jeff Boyd said. Orange Beach was hit with a freak hail storm on April 10.

Councilman Jerry Johnson said the new Tahoes would sport a new look from the current city police cars.

"We're very proud of the Orange Beach wraps," Johnson said. "You're going to really like them on the road. A softer approach."

Finishing touches for Canal Rd. widening project

Community Development Director Kit Alexander told City Council the contractor is preparing to finish up the final paving on the widening of Canal Road during its Sept. 7 meeting.

The work, originally behind because of rain, was set to start on Sept. 8 but it was a washout because it rained all day.

"They'll be paving the Island Church driveway that they used as a staging area, they'll be paving Gulf Bay Road in the intersection where there are some gravel areas," Alexander said. "We do have two bump kind of patch areas that we need to address at Gulf Bay Road and at William Silvers. There will be lane closures in both locations so that will be potentially problematic. They will not start work before 8 so we can have free and clear school traffic."

Per a city request, the contractor will also be widening Sweetwater Drive directly west of Orange Beach High/Middle School.

"They hope to get the turn lane into Cypress Village done," Alexander said. "Hopefully we can get it done on one day."

During the 9/7 regular session, the council also:

- OK'd a resolution authorizing the sole source purchase of two submersible pumps from Jim House & Associates for the Utilities Department in the amount of $72,980.
- OK'd a resolution to give the Makos Academics, Arts and Athletic Club $48,900.
- Approved a change to the planned unit development for Summer Salt to add seven lots to phase two and raising the lots for the whole development from 112 to 119. A total of 58 cottage lots and 54 single-family lots are in the original plan. It passed on a 5-1 vote.
- Rescinded the declaration of emergency for Hurricane Ida.
- OK'd a resolution appointing Chris Callaghan as Municipal Court Judge for the City of Orange Beach.
- OK'd a resolution appropriating funds to support the Safe Harbor Animal Coalition in a prorated amount of $3,333.33 for FY2021.
- OK'd a resolution appropriating funds to the National Sojourners 531 Baldwin County Chapter for the purpose of sponsoring local events benefiting first responders in the amount of $500.
- OK'd a resolution to buy a replacement pump for the Mariner Lakes lift station from Jim House & Associates for the Utilities Department in the amount of $18,558.
- OK'd a resolution amending the employees pay plan/job Listing to add the positions of athletic program coordinator and Sportsplex and Concessions Services Director.
- OK'd a resolution authorizing the execution of the Alabama Association of Fire Chiefs Mutual Aid Consortium Agreement.
- OK'd a resolution authorizing a franchise for Rock & Roll Offs to remove and dispose of commercial solid waste and to remove and transport construction and demolition debris.
- OK'd a resolution authorizing a franchise for Bishop Enterprises to remove and dispose of commercial solid waste and to remove and transport construction and demolition debris.
- Approved of a restaurant retail liquor license application by Los Compadres for El Nuevo Mexico Lindo Restaurant in the Rouses shopping center.
- Passed resolutions declaring September as Childhood Cancer Awareness Month and Sept. 17-23 as Constitution Week.

During the 9/7 work session, the council discussed:

- A proposal by Mrs. Aiken to install a "beaver preventer" flow through type device behind private residences on Park Drive.
- A potential partnership with C Spire to locate equipment on the new site of the Coastal Alabama Sea Turtle Center near the water tower on State Route 161.
- A resolution awarding the bid for Dinner Theater Catering Services.
- A resolution awarding the bid for Christmas decorations.
- A resolution authorizing the execution of an Administrative Services Agreement and Addendum with RxBenefits for pharmacy claims related to the employee health benefit plan.
- A resolution authorizing the execution of a performance contract with Jody Hodo for softball coaching services.

Mystical Order of Aurora Swanky Gala 2021 raises $68,800 for Youth-Reach Gulf Coast

The 2021 Mystical Order of Aurora Swanky Gala was a rousing success, as evidenced by last week's check presentation of $68,800 to Youth-Reach Gulf Coast, a Baldwin County non-profit created to turn around the lives of at-risk young men, ages 18-22. "We are always amazed at the support our community gives to worthy causes," Donna Stump, chair of the Auroras' charity committee, said, "but the success of this event has blown us away! Our members are always up for a challenge, it's true, but the tickets sold this year, the silent auction items gathered and the time invested made this year's Swanky Gala a record-setting event."

"I just have to mention how generous and supportive John McInnis and his wife Shelley have always been and especially this year" said Eva Keesee, President of the Auroras. "John is well known as a business leader as CEO of McInnis Industries, and for his Flora-Bama ownership. But behind the scenes, he is one of the most giving people on our coast, serving as an Advisory Board member of Youth-Reach among many other ways he supports worthy causes. And I can't forget Melanie Martin, Polly Andrews and Jennifer Blanchard, who always step up to give as well. We are blessed to have so many fine businesspeople who never say no when given a chance to make a difference." For the first time this year, the gala, known for outlandishly fun formal attire, named Best Dressed winners: Ashley Orwell and Jimmy Sims took the honors.

The City of Gulf Shores is excited to announce the Haunted Hustle coming to Gulf Place Public Beach on Saturday, Oct. 16. Locals and visitors are invited to wear their best Halloween costume and participate in this horrifyingly fun event featuring a Haunted Hustle 5K, Fun Run, Witches on Wheels, and a live DJ. All participants will receive a goody bag and event t-shirt.

The Fun Run will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. Non-competitive goblins, this is the course for you. Join us on a fun out-and-back route that is approximately 1 mile. Early registration cost to participate is $20 through Sept. 26. Beginning Sept. 27, the registration fee will increase to $25, and race day registration on Oct. 16 is $30. All participants will receive a finishers medal, goody bag, and event t-shirt.

The Haunted Hustle 5K will begin promptly at 7 p.m. Ghosts and monsters of all sorts are invited to enjoy an evening run on our USATF certified course (certification number AL18053JE). The 5K course will begin and end in front of Gulf Place Town Green. Early registration cost to participate in the Haunted Hustle 5K is $30 until Sept. 26. Beginning Sept. 27, the registration fee will increase to $35, and race day registration on Oct. 16 is $40. All participants will receive a goody bag and event t-shirt.

"General admission to the Haunted Hustle is free," Recreation Manager Nicole Ard said. "For those who do not wish to participate in the Haunted Hustle 5K, Fun Run, or Witches on Wheels, we still encourage them to come out in their favorite Halloween costume and enjoy spending time with family and friends, listen to our live DJ, and enjoy the festivities we have lined up starting at 6 p.m. The Witches on Wheels parade is a must-see for all!"

Cookin' With Carolyn

By Carolyn Godfrey

My youngest daughter is an excellent cook and loves to try new recipes (and add her changes). Here is one of her latest. It's delicious!

Thai Chicken with Linguine

1/2 lb linguine
1 Tbsp olive oil
1 lb skinless, boneless chicken breasts, cut into 1 inch pieces
1 cup chicken broth
2 Tbsp honey
1 Tbsp soy sauce
1/4 cup crunchy peanut butter
1 tsp cornstarch
1 tsp ground ginger
4 scallions, sliced
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 red bell pepper, cut into strips
7 oz bag of snow peas

1) Cook the linguine according to the package directions, drain, set aside, and keep warm
2) In a large sauce pan (or 4 qt stew pot), warm the oil over medium heat. Add the chicken and cook until it loses its pink color. Remove the chicken from the pot and keep warm.
3) Add the broth, honey, and soy sauce to the pot.
4) Whisk in the peanut butter, corn starch, and ginger.
5) Add the scallions and garlic and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until blended.
6) Add the red pepper strips, snow peas, and chicken.
7) Stir to coat and cook until the sauce has thickened. Add the linguine to the pot, coat with the sauce. Take off heat and serve. Makes 4-6 servings.

Note: The stew pot can be larger - I use my 10", 4-qt pot. It is a good size to make the sauce and being able to add the linguine to it at the end. For us, it is 4 servings.

What's Happen-

Craft Farms & Peninsula raising funds for ovarian cancer research

Locals can play golf for $50 through Oct. at either course

Craft Farms Golf Resort and Peninsula Golf & Racquet Club are raising funds for ovarian cancer research throughout the month of September. The goal of the initiative is to raise $20,000 to benefit UAB Research for Ovarian Cancer and the Laura Crandall Brown Foundation.

Both Craft Farms and Peninsula are managed by Honours Golf, a division of Troon. Honours Golf Founder Bob Barrett's wife Babs has been courageously battling ovarian cancer since 2018. The charities benefiting from the donations have been instrumental in her journey. Golfers and non-golfers alike can "Battle for Babs" and help raise funds for the charities in a variety of ways, including:

• Locals play either Craft Farms Golf Resort or Peninsula Golf & Racquet Club for $50 on any Sunday in September. This special is the perfect opportunity to play the two premiere golf courses with all proceeds donated to charity. The clubs do ask for tee times to be after 11 a.m. and golfers to bring a valid driver's license. Locals are considered permanent residents of Baldwin, Escambia or Mobile County (includes Escambia, FL and Escambia, AL).

• Craft Farms and Peninsula are also holding a raffle for a golf trip to World Golf Village in St. Augustine for the winner. Raffle tickets may be purchased for $20 from the golf shops and all proceeds will be donated to charity. This golf getaway includes a two-night stay at the Renaissance St. Augustine Resort, and two foursomes of golf at King & Bear and Slammer & Squire at World Golf Village. A winner will be drawn on September 30.

• Guests at Craft Farms and Peninsula may also purchase a signature teal cocktail for a $12 donation. The refreshing and delicious beverage is made with Titos Vodka and Blue Curacao. Beverages can be purchased during a golf round from the beverage cart or after in the bar.

• Craft Farms and Peninsula are also taking donations online at https://bit.ly/BattleForBabs.

"We hope our local community will support our 'Battle for Babs' fund raising efforts and come out and play two amazing courses," said Chad Leonard, Regional Director of Club Operations for Honours Golf. "You'll be helping a worthy cause while playing a great round at a great price. It is truly a win-win."

One in 78 women will face ovarian cancer in their lifetime, with more than 22,000 diagnosed annually, and only 15% of cases are diagnosed early. Less than half of the women diagnosed this year will be alive in five years. Research is so important because there is currently no reliable early detection test to screen for ovarian cancer. Additionally, symptoms can be vague and easily attributed to other causes, which increases the likelihood that women will experience a misdiagnosis or late diagnosis.

Alive at 5 brings Spin Doctors, Anders Osborne, Dirty Dozen to Fairhope

The Dirty Dozen Brass Band with Jamell Richardson opening on Sept. 24, The Spin Doctors (Pocket Full of Kryptonite) with Johnny Hayes and the Love Seats opening on Oct. 10, and Anders Osborne with Flow Tribe opening on Oct. 29 are this season's remaining Live at Five concerts at the Halstead Amphitheater (450 Fairhope Ave.) on the campus of Coastal Alabama Community College in Fairhope. The cover charge varies by show. There is at least one food truck at every show and attendees are welcome to bring coolers and picnic food to the family-friendly event. Well-behaved dogs are also welcome. There is no seating provided. So bring blankets and/or chairs. Concerts start at 5 p.m., with the main act scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available at eventbrite.com.

Pictured: The seminal jam act Spin Doctors developed their live show and built a following with frequent late '80s gigs in Manhattan before entering the national spotlight with their 1991 studio album Pocket Full Of Kryptonite and it hits "Two Princes" and "Little Miss Can't Be Wrong." The band was a part of the inaugural H.O.R.D.E. Tour in 1992 with Phish, Blues Traveler, Widespread Panic, Col. Bruce Hampton & The Aquarium Rescue Unit and Bela Fleck & The Flecktones. After a number of lineup changes, decades of touring and multiple studio albums, the original members are back in place. Their latest, If The River Was Whiskey, was recorded completely live.

Vickers speaks Oct. 9 to Baldwin County Genealogical Society

Atmore author will talk about his book "Alabama Creek Indians"

Atmore author Lou Vickers will talk about his book "Alabama Creek Indians" at the October 9 meeting of the Baldwin County Genealogical Society at 10 a.m. in the Foley Public Library's meeting room (319 East Laurel Ave.). Pre-registration is required for all members and interested public by emailing your name to Baldwin-Genealogy@gmail.com. Pre-registration ends October 6 and seating is limited.

Vickery is an Alabama Creek Indian through the Moniac lineage, one of the original Poarch Creek families. His book has been described as a well-thought-out and thoroughly researched book that offers the reader a fascinating journey into the history of the Muscogee and Creek Indians.

Vickery (pictured) offers a timeless material that helps the reader truly navigate the historical, genealogical and biographical base of the Alabama Creek Indians.

Topics will include the Creek tribal government and its lifeways evolved over the last several centuries, how Europeans settled and integrated in Creek country, and the construction of the Federal Road in the early 1800s.

Vickery draws this information from first person accounts, letters, government reports, and records to paint a beautiful and honorable picture of the Alabama Creek Nation.

A Troy State grad, Vickers is a Fairhope resident and former professional baseball player. He hosts a weekly TV show on BLU TV entitled UP TALK.

St. Benedict Catholic School Celebrates 100th Anniversary with Centennial Mass

St. Benedict Catholic School officially reached a milestone that few institutions achieve. On September 6, the small private school celebrated its 100th anniversary of opening its doors in Elberta. That first year, sixty children attended in 1st – 8th grade and were taught reading, math, religion and German. School was dismissed in early May to allow the children to work the farms. "A lot of things have changed at St. Benedict since we first opened our doors one hundred years ago," said Dr. Kathleen McCool, Principal of St. Benedict. "But, what hasn't changed, is our dedication to inspiring young lives to pray, serve, lead and succeed." St. Benedict hosted a special Centennial Mass concelebrated by Archbishop Rodi and the supporting parish priests on Sept. 18. For more info about the school, visit SaintBenedict.net. Pictured: St. Benedict School Catholic Centennial planning committee members met Sept. 7th to finalize details for the upcoming mass. Oct. 6-9 Coastal BirdFest includes expo in Fairhope

From trips and workshops that showcase the beauty and diversity of bird watching, plants and wildlife in Mobile and Baldwin counties, to new activities like the the Building a Backyard Habitat seminar, in which participants will discover how to transform their yards into beautiful landscapes that attract birds and other wildlife, the 17th Annual Alabama Coastal BirdFest is shaping up to be an exciting four-day event! Registration is now open, and trips and workshops will be filled on a first come first served basis. Held Oct. 6-9, it offers one of the prime birdwatching opportunities on the Gulf Coast during fall migration. More than 370 bird species have been spotted at various locations along the Alabama coast. Guides expertly lead attendees on boat and walking trips to some of the best birding spots in the area.

Alabama Coastal BirdFest takes attendees into the Mobile Delta, to the Dauphin Island Bird Sanctuary, the Bon Secour National Wildlife Refuge, and the Blakeley Island Mud Ponds, among other locations. The four-day event also includes workshops on subjects such as hummingbirds, the basics of birding, monarch butterflies, and this year for the first time, a workshop on how to choose and plan and national or international birding trip. Plus, a family-friendly bird and conservation expo on the campus of Coastal Alabama Community College.

Since 2004, BirdFest has raised more than $100,000 to help preserve and protect vital coastal bird and wildlife habitat and increase the awareness of the great biological diversity of the Alabama Gulf Coast. More info: southalabamalandtrust.org.

Entergy, the company tasked with restoring power to more than one million customers in Louisiana following Hurricane Ida, expects to replace more power poles damaged by that hurricane than during hurricanes Katrina, Ike, Delta and Zeta combined, according to company vice president John Hawkins.

According to Entergy, 30,679 poles, 36,469 spans of wire, and 5,959 transformers in Louisiana and Mississippi were damaged in the storm. Funny Bones

By Ron "Bones" Jones

My ex-girlfriend just told me she wants us to get back together again.

Man, I sure am lucky!

I mean, first I win the lottery and now this.

Patient: "Lord I hope I'm sick."
DoctorF: "Why in the world would you want to be sick?"
Patient: "I'd hate to be well and feel like this."

••••••••••

Two Michigan State fans, while rooting for their team on TV, realize that their apartment is on fire and go out onto the balcony.

"Help, help!" yells one of the Spartan fans.

"Help us, help us!" yells the other.

"Maybe it would help if we yell together," said the first.

"Good idea," said the other.

"Together. Together."

My wife gave me an ultimatum.

It was her or my addiction to sweets.

The decision was a piece of cake.

"Push harder!" I shouted at my wife while she was in labor.

"I hate you, I hate you more than I've ever hated anyone!" she screamed.

She was a bit harsh, I thought. It wasn't my fault the line was so long when at the quickstop on the way.

"The problem we face today is because the people that work for a living are outnumbered by those who vote for a living."
- George Bernard Shaw (1856-1950)

I went a wise man the other day for advice and he said, "He who knows and knows he knows, knows not. He who knows not and knows he knows not, knows."

I don't know who's going to do my taxes next year, but I know it won't be him again.

••••••••••

Man: "I would like to make a will but I don't know exactly how to go about it."
Lawyer: "No problem, leave it all to me."
Man: "Well, I knew you were going to take the biggest slice, but I'd like to leave a little to my children, too!"

I just got fired from my job at the keyboard factory. They told me I wasn't putting in enough shifts.

When I was young, I was poor. But after many years of hard work, I am no longer young.

The judge warned the witness, "Do you understand that you have sworn to tell the truth?"

"I do."

"Do you understand what will happen if you are not truthful?"

"Sure," said the witness. "My side will win."

Dolphins are so intelligent that within a few weeks of captivity they can train a man to stand on the edge of their pool and throw them fish three times a day.

A man was walking on the beach one day and he found a bottle half buried in the sand. He decided to open it. Inside was a genie.
The genie said, "I will grant you three wishes and three wishes only."

The man thought about his first wish and decided he wanted a million dollars transferred to a Swiss bank account. POOF!

Next he wished for a Ferrari red in color. POOF! There was the car sitting in front of him.

He asked for his final wish, "I wish I was irresistible to women."

POOF! He turned into a box of chocolates.

State records set for Bonito, Yellow Fin & Blue Marlin at Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo

By David Rainer
Al. Dept. of Conservation & Nat. Resources

Kyle Davis swung the big fish into his 21-foot boat during the Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo this summer and let it flop on the deck for a minute, never considering what he had just landed.

The Irvington resident just thought the fish, a little tunny more commonly known as a bonito, would make some nice bait when he goes shark fishing.

"I was fishing for blackfin tuna in 1,200 feet of water," Davis said. "It was not the location I normally go fishing. I'm only on a 21-foot boat. I pushed 74 miles out. I go out a little farther, and we got into a good school of bonito.

"We were catching them in varying sizes, some like that one. We were cutting them in half to freeze them for bait. We decided to keep that one to turn in at the rodeo. We had no idea we had a state record on board."

What Davis accomplished by hauling in that little tunny was snapping the longest-held record in the Alabama Marine Resources Division's (MRD) saltwater record book. Davis' bonito weighed 22 pounds, 4 ounces to eclipse the 21.0-pound mark set by W.A. March Jr. of Mobile in 1956.

"If my buddy hadn't called me the next day and told me it was a state record, it was about to be going out to be used as shark bait," Davis said. "I called and asked the rodeo about it; they said not to do anything with it. Luckily, I still had it in the cooler. By the time they told me they needed the fish, I had it cut in half to get ready to freeze it."

"We were catching them in varying sizes, some like that one. We were cutting them in half to freeze them for bait. We decided to keep that one to turn in at the rodeo. We had no idea we had a state record on board."

Fortunately, MRD biologists had plenty of evidence of the catch through the rodeo and confirmed the species, which is different from the smaller Atlantic bonita.

Fishing the rodeo is a big deal for Davis and his buddies. He admits he pushes the envelope a bit with a single-outboard boat during the rodeo.

"We plan for a while for the rodeo," he said. "At the beginning of the year, I start finding spots with big fish, and then I leave them untouched until the rodeo. Honestly, I just wing it. If it's pretty weather, I go far. If it's not, I stay inshore."

"I don't normally go more than 50 to 60 miles in my boat, but I like going out to the pelagic waters and catching tuna. I like the taste of tuna. I was trying to put tuna on the board in a 21-foot boat, just to be known as being kind of crazy."

To go that far, Davis takes a little extra fuel if he finds a bite he can't resist.

"I've got an 80-gallon tank and get 2.9 miles per gallon," he said. "I bring 30 gallons extra inside my console just in case. I tell my family that if I do go out that far, I know where Louisiana is. Louisiana is closer than Dauphin Island, so I tell them I'll call them when I hit the Mississippi River."

On that fateful day during the rodeo, Davis said they were "chunking" to entice a tuna bite. Chunking involves cutting dead bait into smaller pieces and letting them drift down to attract the targeted species.

With the rods with cut bait out, Davis picked up a rod with a 200-gram Shimano butterfly jig, dropped it into the deep and started rapidly jigging.

"I dropped it down, probably 500 to 600 feet, jigging it back up," he said. "I probably got to about 100 feet when I got into the bonitos. We put three fish the same size as that one on the boat."

Davis tried to get the fish back to the rodeo site in time to weigh in on Saturday, but he couldn't get there in time.

"I had to hold onto the fish for another day, plus we went fishing again," he said. "So, it was Sunday afternoon before we could weigh the fish. I had the fish out of the water for a long time and still had the record fish. It would have probably been a little heavier if I could have weighed it in earlier, but I just didn't get the opportunity."

Davis' little tunny wasn't the only fish recently approved for the record books. Tyler Van't Hoff landed a 52-pound, 14-ounce Almaco jack. Bennie Goldman Jr. caught a 28-pound, 1-ounce horse-eye jack, and William Tyler Cruitt landed a keeltail pomfret that weighed 29.44 pounds.

Also, possibly missed during last year's first wave of Covid-19, two records were set for big game species.

Ginger Myers, on the Fleur de Lis out of Louisiana, landed a state record blue marlin at 851.9 pounds. The marlin was weighed in at the Mobile Big Game Fishing Club at Orange Beach during the Mongo Challenge. In March 2020, Maurice Redell boated a 230-pound yellowfin tuna.

MRD Director Scott Bannon said the record fish illustrates just how good the fishing is in Alabama waters and off the Alabama coast. He also said breaking the little tunny record is special.

"That was the oldest standing record," Bannon said. "That's a big fish. State records are about bragging rights and showing off what we have. It's not a highly sought after fish for eating, but it's great for bait and exciting to catch. They're all muscle, like a miniature tuna.

"When you see state records, it shows we have fantastic resources off of Alabama. Anglers get great opportunities to participate in these fisheries. Everybody wants to catch the big one, and occasionally you get one in the record books."

Gulf Council to postpone red snapper re-calibration til 2023

By David Rainer
Al.Dept. of Conservation & Nat. Resources

Discussion centered on calibration of Alabama's estimate of red snapper harvest data during the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council (Gulf Council).

The calibration pushed by NOAA Fisheries would take the data collected by the five Gulf states and "calibrate" it with the data collected through the Marine Recreational Information Program (MRIP). This "calibration" would cause Alabama to lose almost half of its red snapper quota.

Conservation Commissioner Chris Blankenship attended the public comment portion of the meeting in San Antonio and gave an impassioned speech to the Gulf Council concerning multiple facets of red snapper management.

He also met individually with Council members from the other Gulf States to explain Alabama's position on the issues. His efforts proved fruitful as the Gulf Council voted 13-3 to continue to postpone any calibration until 2023 when the new stock assessment should be completed. This new assessment should contain data from the Great Red Snapper Count that was recently completed that showed the Gulf of Mexico has more than three times the red snapper previously counted by NOAA Fisheries.

Surprisingly, Susan Boggs of Orange Beach voted with NOAA Fisheries to reduce Alabama's quota. Had the motioned passed, it could result in a loss of more than $45 million from the Coastal Alabama economy over the first three years of the change.

The next Gulf Council meeting will be held October 25-28 at the Perdido Beach Resort in Orange Beach, where one of the subjects of discussion will be the status of the cobia fishery.

"Cobia has been a hot topic lately," MRD Director Scott Bannon said. "The Council is holding public meetings on cobia management options, and one of those meetings being planned is to be held in conjunction with the Council meeting. We want people who want to discuss their concerns about cobia to come to the Council meeting in Orange Beach."
